CIVILIZATION RUN OFF THE ROAD

By A. J. Reffes

Progress Publishers

For Kathy, friend, mentor and wife. Stupor Mundi.

Copyright ©2025 by A. J. Reffes. All rights reserved. Published by Progress Publishers, Berlin, Germany.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION 3
ONE HUNDRED YEARS OF GUNFIRE 4
MARXISTS MARCH ON THE COUNTRYSIDE 6
SOVIET TANKS ROLL THROUGH AMERICA 9
RED ATTACK ON BERLIN 11
CHARLES MANSON, CHAIRMAN OF THE DEMOCRAT PARTY 14
TWO TERROR ATTACKS, ONE TOMBSTONE OF THE WEST 16
THE BASIS OF LIBERTY 18
THE RED REPARATIONS RACKET 21
ANTIRED UPRISINGS IN AMERICA AND BRAZIL 23
THE WELFARE WASTELAND OF FRANCE 26
CIVILIZATION RUN OFF THE ROAD 28
AI—ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE—AGITATION INTERNATIONAL 30
ANTIFA ANNEXES AUSTRIA 33
SLAVE ISLAND 35
EUROPE'S BANKS CRASH 37
CANADA VOTES FOR COMINTERN 39
WORLD MOURNS PRETTY BOY RED 42
MUSLIM BOMBS LEVEL DEARBORN 44
SEPTEMBER 22, 2025: ITALY'S REDS STAGE COUP 46
HER HAMMER AND SICKLE AND RAISED FIST 49

INTRODUCTION

These reports are intended for a general, nonspecialist audience. They run the gamut of the arts and sciences, historical and current events, and should provide the reader with useful introductions to given topics. May they encourage a few happy hours of suggestive thought!

The line does not stop and the images cannot be forgotten. They were created by the number gutter religion of our time, by a sewer flowing with human debris, collecting the voices of hate and resentment and forging them into a mass movement and armed revolution targeting the institutions of the Enlightenment. They are episodes of far left violence and they have been attacking free societies since the publication of Karl Marx's manifestos in the mid nineteenth century, and in the twenty first century, they have made America the most dangerous nation in the West. America is the most dangerous nation because Donald Trump's movement to roll back the gains made by the far left have provoked fierce resistance and submerged the nation in rivers of blood. Far Left Violence. Trump's repeal of two unprecedented commands instituted by Democrat presidents, one a command to obtain health insurance instituted by Barack Obama and the other a command to buy electric cars through the coercion of tax credits, instituted by Joe Biden, loaded the guns of the far left. Trump's outlawing of transgenderist policies in the federal government and his official definition of male and female in real, genetic, biological terms loaded the guns of the far left. Trump's outlawing of racist and sexist discrimination policies in the federal government, perpetrated in the name of diversity, equity and inclusion, loaded the guns of the far left. Trump's opposition to psychotic individuals who deny the biological reality of sex loaded the guns of the far left. His prohibition on males self identifying as females from entering the spaces, using the facilities, participating in the activities and playing on the sports teams reserved for real women, loaded the guns of the far left. His grounding of federal policies in empirical truths in place of ideological dogmas loaded the guns of the far left. His rejection of transgenderist religion in favor of Enlightenment science loaded the guns of the far left. His rejection of subjective, fluid and indeterminate definitions of sex in favor of reason and sanity based definitions loaded the guns of the far left: "Across the country, ideologues who deny the biological reality of sex have increasingly used legal and other socially coercive means to permit men to self identify as women and gain access to intimate single sex spaces and activities designed for women, from women's domestic abuse shelters to women's workplace showers. This is wrong. Efforts to eradicate the biological reality of sex fundamentally attack women by depriving them of their dignity, safety, and well being. The erasure of sex in language and policy has a corrosive impact not just on women but on the validity of the entire American system. Basing Federal policy on truth is critical to scientific inquiry, public safety, morale, and trust in government itself. This unhealthy road is paved by an ongoing and purposeful attack against the ordinary and longstanding use and understanding of biological and scientific terms, replacing the immutable biological reality of sex with an internal, fluid, and subjective sense of self unmoored from biological facts. Invalidating the true and biological category of woman improperly transforms laws and policies designed to protect sex based opportunities into laws and policies that undermine them, replacing longstanding, cherished legal rights and values with an identity based, inchoate social concept. Accordingly, my Administration will defend women's rights and protect freedom of conscience by using clear and accurate language and policies that recognize women are biologically female, and men are biologically male." (Defending Women From Gender Ideology Extremism And Restoring Biological Truth To The Federal Government, Executive Order, January 20, 2025). Far Left Violence. Donald Trump's prohibition of unconstitutional and immoral discrimination programs in the federal government loaded the guns of the far left. His prohibition of racist employment policies, established in the name of "racial equity" and "support for underserved communities," loaded the guns of the far left. His prohibition of racist and sexist employment policies, established as Equity Action Plans, loaded the guns of the far left. His prohibition of preferential treatment on the basis of race and sex, which violates the equal rights and dignity all people, loaded the guns of the far left. His termination of all mandates, policies, programs, preferences and activities in the federal government which enforce the antiliberal, unAmerican, neoswastika politics of race and gender and target white males for exclusion, loaded the guns of the far left. His establishment of employee reviews focusing on individual characteristics, individual talent, ability, performance, initiative and hard work, and ignoring membership in tribes unrelated to the reality and essence of individuals, loaded the guns of the far left: "The Biden Administration forced illegal and immoral discrimination programs, going by the name 'diversity, equity, and inclusion' (DEI), into virtually all aspects of the Federal Government, in areas ranging from airline safety to the military. This was a concerted effort stemming from President Biden's first day in office, when he issued Executive Order 13985, Advancing Racial Equity And Support For Underserved Communities Through The Federal Government. Pursuant to Executive Order 13985 and follow on orders, nearly every Federal agency and entity submitted Equity Action Plans to detail the ways that they have furthered DEIs infiltration of the Federal Government. The public release of these plans demonstrated immense public waste and shameful discrimination. That ends today. Americans deserve a government committed to serving every person with equal dignity and respect, and to expending precious taxpayer resources only on making America great. The Director of the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), assisted by the Attorney General and the Director of the Office of Personnel Management (OPM), shall coordinate the termination of all discriminatory programs, including illegal DEI and 'diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility' (DEIA) mandates, policies, programs, preferences, and activities in the Federal Government, under whatever name they appear. To carry out this directive, the Director of OPM, with the assistance of the Attorney General as requested, shall review and revise, as appropriate, all existing Federal employment practices, union contracts, and training policies or programs to comply with this order. Federal employment practices, including Federal employee performance reviews, shall reward individual initiative, skills, performance, and hard work and shall not under any circumstances consider DEI or DEIA factors, goals, policies, mandates, or requirements." (Ending Radical And Wasteful Government DEI Programs And Preferencing, Executive Order, January 20, 2025). Far Left Violence. Since the onset of Donald Trump's first term in office, the guns of far left violence have been firing relentlessly and without surcease. On June 14, 2017, in Alexandria, Virginia, at a practice session for the annual Congressional Baseball Game, James Hodgkinson opened fire on four people, including United States House Majority Whip Steve Scalise. Condemning constitutional rights as undemocratic, condemning the rich as a class of oppressors and exploiters, condemning Donald Trump as a fascist dictator because he seeks to excise the extragrowths of far left ideologies, and exalting Bernie Sanders as the preeminent statesman of far left subversion, James Hodgkinson spilled blood across a baseball field obeying the commands of his religion: "James Hodgkinson, the gunman who shot Congressman Steve Scalise during an attack on a Republican congressional baseball practice session on Wednesday, was a leftwing political activist with a record of domestic violence. In one post on 22 March, Hodgkinson wrote: 'Trump is a Traitor. Trump Has Destroyed our Democracy. It's Time to Destroy Trump & Co.' In another, dated 25 December 2016, he wrote: 'We Don't Need or Deserve a Billionaire for President.' He showed strong support for Clinton's rival in the Democratic primary, Bernie Sanders. 'I want Bernie to win the White House,' Hodgkinson posted in August 2016." (Virginia Shooting: Gunman Was Leftwing Activist With Record Of Domestic Violence by Oliver Laughland and Jon Swaine). Far Left Violence. On September 10, 2025, at 12:10 pm at Utah Valley University in the city of Orem, Charlie Kirk was shot dead. Charlie Kirk. Founder of Turning Point USA, an organization dedicated to eliminating far left propaganda from high schools and universities. Member of the Council for National Policy, a conservative and libertarian advocacy group. Leader of the Stop the Steal movement which exposed the rigged presidential election of 2020: "In the 2020 election, more than 1-in-5 voters who submitted ballots by mail say they did so fraudulently, a survey from Rasmussen Reports and the Heartland Institute reveals." (Survey: More Than 1 In 5 Mail In Voters Admit To Cheating in 2020 Election by John Binder). Activist, public speaker, media personality, talk show host, political organizer and ally to Donald Trump in a campaign to promote the quintessentially American values of fiscal responsibility, limited government, free markets and freedom of speech in the face of a far left onslaught. His Turning Point USA organization led a nationwide get out the vote campaign in the 2025 elections which helped Trump and other Republicans achieve victory: "Charlie Kirk was one of the highest profile conservative activists and media personalities in the US, and a trusted ally of President Donald Trump. He was an avid public speaker, touring the country speaking at Republican events, many of which were popular with members of the ultraconservative Tea Party movement, and his daily conservative talk radio show had millions of followers on social media. The nonprofit he founded, Turning Point USA--a large part of his legacy--began after President Barack Obama was reelected in 2012. Its mission, aimed at young people, is to organize students to 'promote the principles of fiscal responsibility, free markets, and limited government.' It now has chapters at more than 850 colleges. It played a key role in the get out the vote effort for Trump and other Republican candidates in last year's election. He was also widely credited with helping to register tens of thousands of new voters and flipping Arizona for Trump." (Charlie Kirk: Conservative Influencer Who Rallied A Youth Movement by Jude Sheerin and Ana Faguy). Charlie Kirk. Assassinated by a far left activist promoting anticapitalism, transgenderism and a culture of totalitarian lockstep in the name of fighting fascism. Assassinated by a human rifle blasting out deadly rounds of gender, race and class hate: "Reports from Steven Crowder and the Wall Street Journal indicate the ammunition found by the alleged assassin's gun was marked with transgender messages. Crowder posted a screenshot of an email he attributed to the ATF. The screenshot included a portion of the email which said: 'The location of the firearm appears to match the suspects route of travel. The spent cartridge was still chambered in addition to three unspent rounds at the top fed magazine. All cartridges have engraved wording on them, expressing transgender and antifascist ideology.' The Wall Street Journal also pointed to the email cited by Crowder highlighting the transgender messages and pointing out that the gun was an 'older model .30 caliber hunting rifle.' CNN noted the ammo was 'scrawled with cultural phrases.' 10 KJRA reported that Charlie Kirk 'was answering a question about transgender shooters when he was fatally shot during an event at Utah Valley University on Wednesday.' " (Alleged Charlie Kirk Assassin's Ammo Engraved With Transgender Messages by AWR Hawkins). Far Left Violence. Missiles of far left terror have been hurtling through the skies since the Russian Revolution of 1917. After the Soviet capital of communism, they have been launched by Maoist China, Pol Pot's Cambodia, and communist regimes reaching from Cuba to North Korea to Latin America. These guided munitions of madness propelled by mass agitations and the votes of majorities have claimed their latest victim at a student question and answer session at Utah Valley University. As blood from an assassin's bullet gushed out Charlie Kirk's neck, and students ducked, screamed and ran for their lives, civilizational darkness deepened across the West.

MARXISTS MARCH ON THE COUNTRYSIDE

In a very short time, in China's central, southern and northern provinces, several hundred million peasants will rise like a mighty storm, like a hurricane, a force so swift and violent that no power, however great, will be able to hold it back. They will smash all the trammels that bind them and rush forward along the road to liberation. They will sweep all the imperialists, warlords, corrupt officials, local tyrants and evil gentry into their graves. Every revolutionary party and every revolutionary comrade will be put to the test, to be accepted or rejected as they decide. There are three alternatives. To march at their head and lead them. To trail behind them, gesticulating and criticizing. Or to stand in their way and oppose them. Every Chinese is free to choose, but events will force you to make the choice quickly. (Report On An Investigation Of The Peasant Movement In Hunan by Mao Zedong). The collectivization of the countryside and the imposition of slavery on farms in the name of antimperialism, popular liberation, and fighting tyranny and corruption. The elimination of private property in rural regions in the name of the people's revolution. Untold peasants placed on the path of human sacrifice by a movement of the masses and party officials. Such were the violent storms of communism sweeping through the East during the Cold War, sending people to early graves in chains and shackles. In the twenty first century, the number one gutter religion of our time, collecting the human debris of rancor and discontent and forging it into an armed movement and revolution targeting free institutions and the legacies of the Enlightenment, has left no space untouched in its campaign to destroy Western liberal society. In the twenty first century, the Red Guards which patrolled the Communist Bloc have been brought back to life by the Western cultural and political establishment and unleashed across the countryside. In the twenty first century, human settlements outside towns and cities, settlements marked by meadowlands, agriculture, forestry and few people, have been paved over with the asphalt of gender, race and class politics, become crowded with propagandists and agitators, and become the latest victims of Red Guard terror. In the twenty first century, the Marxist majority running the West has issued a manifesto for rural regions designed to bring revolution to the soil and make it blaze with the fires of extremism. Listen to it and see fields far removed from urban zones transformed into harvests of shame. Invasion of the Countryside. The new manifesto advocates communism in the name of fighting rural racism. In the name of protecting ethnic minorities. In the name of making the countryside more inclusive. In the name of protecting nonwhites. In the name of eliminating hate and bigotry. In the name of meeting the cultural and religious needs of Muslims, making them feel comfortable, and giving them halal food and spaces for prayers. In the name of promoting sensitivity to nonWestern nations and cultures. In the name of promoting racial, ethnic, cultural and religious tolerance. In the name of promoting diverse communities. In the name of fighting hate crimes and advancing the cause of harmony on earth: "Academics from the University of Leicester have penned a report on the issue of 'rural racism,' which looks at the experience of ethnic minorities in the British countryside. The report, titled How Can We Make The Countryside More Inclusive?, says nonwhite people experience 'discomfort' and a 'psychological burden' when traversing rural spaces in the UK. Researchers from the university's Centre for Hate Studies said the country pub culture and other 'monocultural customs' are exclusionary. Likewise, they say that the countryside lacks the 'appropriate facilities to meet religious and cultural needs' because of a lack of halal and other religious dietary options. The report notes that 'the availability of halal food or spaces for prayer could make a significant difference in whether people feel comfortable visiting the countryside.' To tackle the perceived problem, researchers say that rural businesses should adapt to improve 'cultural sensitivity.' The report said: 'Welcoming minoritized individuals into the countryside means more than tolerance; it requires thoughtful adaptation, sustained inclusion efforts and a willingness to change.' One contributor to the report, which is based on interviews with 115 people, suggested that 'you could revive rural communities by bringing in more diverse communities.' Tim Bonner, chief executive of the Countryside Alliance, told The Telegraph: 'We would never downplay any individual act of racism, which must be confronted wherever it arises, but the narrative that rural communities are inherently more racist than urban ones is just nonsense. Recent government hate crime statistics show an inverse relationship between rurality and racist hate crimes.' He added: 'The suggestion that racism is so pronounced in rural areas as to justify continual special attention is therefore not supported by the evidence, which may explain why this study has shied away from examining data in favor of collating anecdotes. Ironically, those who peddle the narrative of a racist countryside are actually showing their own prejudice against rural people.' " (British Countryside Is 'Overwhelmingly White' And Needs More Halal Food, Report Claims by Chay Quinn). Invasion of the Countryside. The new manifesto for rural regions advocates communism in the name of eliminating racist colonial white spaces. In the name of protecting the natural world. In the name of eliminating domination by whites. In the name of protecting green spaces. In the name of promoting tolerance for different ethnic backgrounds. In the name of allowing nonwhites to enjoy the outdoors. In the name of curbing greenhouse gas emissions and reversing man made climate change. In the name of eliminating the capitalism system of racism. In the name of protecting plant and animal life. In the name of advancing race and ethnicity politics. In the name of fighting capitalist induced climate and nature crises. In the name of eliminating cruel sports involving animals. In the name of eliminating the capitalist, colonialist exploitation and extermination of native people. In the name of protecting people of color from capitalist hate. In the name of protecting lands of beauty from capitalist pollution. In the name of protecting Muslim hikers, infiltrators, terror bombers and world revolutionaries in their onslaught against the West: "The British countryside is a 'racist colonial' white space, wildlife charities have claimed. Wildlife and Countryside Link, a charity umbrella group made the claim in evidence provided to Parliament on racism and its influence on the natural world. MPs in an all party parliamentary group (APPG) were informed that the British countryside has been influenced by 'racist colonial legacies' which have created an environment some fear is 'dominated by white people.' The country's green spaces are governed by 'white British cultural values,' the report argues, and the perception that the countryside is a 'white space' prevents people from other ethnic backgrounds from enjoying the outdoors. The Wildlife and Countryside Link report was submitted to MPs on the APPG [All Party Parliamentary Group] for Race and Community, which had called for evidence on the links between 'systemic racism' and climate change. The call for evidence comes in the wake of academic 'hate studies' experts launching a 2023 investigation into into 'rural racism' in the British countryside. One section of the new Link report seen by The Telegraph argues that there are 'structural, experiential and cultural' barriers preventing ethnic minorities accessing the countryside. It states: 'Cultural barriers reflect that in the UK, it is White British cultural values that have been embedded into the design and management of green spaces, and into society's expectations of how people should be engaging with them.' It adds that 'racist colonial legacies continue to frame nature in the UK as a white space,' and claims that 'the perception that green spaces are dominated by white people can prevent people from ethnic minority backgrounds from using green spaces.' The report suggests that there should be a 'rights based approach' accessing green spaces, suggesting that the government create a 'legally binding target for access to nature,' possibly by ensuring everyone has a green space within a 15 minute walk from their home. It also makes broader claims about Britain and climate change, stating: 'The UK's role in the European colonial project has also driven the current climate and nature crises.' The APPG last year called for evidence on the links between 'systemic racism and the climate crisis,' focused on the idea that ethnic minorities are disproportionately affected by climate change. Using evidence from environmental experts like those at Link, MPs will issue a report and recommendations on the subject in spring 2024. Sections of the Link report cover the environmental cost of the British Empire, claiming: 'The UK's role in the European colonial project has also driven the current climate and nature crises.' It adds: 'Colonialism has driven the exploitation and erasure of the rights and knowledge of indigenous people, and the assertion of white, Western values and knowledge at the expense of other values and knowledges.' Claims about the UK's contribution to climate change and the British countryside 'colonial' influence come after the Hate Studies Unit at the University of Leicester launched an investigation into 'rural racism in the British countryside. This in turn followed claims by groups such as Muslim Hikers, which seeks to encourage Muslims to enjoy the countryside, that rural areas were perceived as unwelcoming and off limits to minority communities. Mr Benwell said: 'Nature should be for everyone to enjoy and to benefit from. Sadly however, the evidence shows that people of color in the UK are more likely to live in areas with less green space and that are more heavily polluted, and at the same time are significantly less likely to visit natural spaces.' " (British Countryside Is A 'Racist And Colonial' White Space, Wildlife Charities Claim by Craig Simpson). Invasion of the Countryside. The new manifesto for rural regions advocates communism in the name of protecting blacks in holiday camps. In the name of giving black children a space free of white capitalist racism. In the name of eliminating right wing capitalist extremism and white supremacy. It advocates the establishment of a black supremacist dictatorship and the extermination of whites and their capitalist system: "A Spiegel article from 2023 moaned that, in Germany, 'Black people rarely go into the forest because they don't feel safe there.' In an effort to combat this, black only holiday camps were set up to provide children with a space 'free of racism.' Initially, the article included a warning that white people should 'stay as far away from the camps as possible,' but this was removed after it provoked (understandable) controversy. But perhaps it's the nonwhite Germans who ought to steer clear from outdoor pursuits—after all, according to brain rotted leftists, hiking is a gateway to right wing extremism and white supremacy." (No, The Countryside Is Not Racist by Lauren Smith). Invasion of the Countryside. The world of farming has traditionally been variegated in every respect. A farm may be owned by a an individual, a family, a community, a corporation or a state. A farm may grow one crop or a variety of crops. A farm may be general or specialist, the latter including a dairy farm, a fish farm, a poultry farm, a mink farm, a fruits and nuts farm and a vineyard or wine farm. In the twenty first century, traditional farms across the West have been swept away. Marching under the banners of identity politics, antiliberalism, anticapitalism and decolonization, the cultural and political establishment has planted a Marxist monoculture and state owned tyranny banishing free soil forever.

SOVIET TANKS ROLL THROUGH AMERICA

The number is as incomprehensible as were the means employed to achieve it. Famine, deportation, imprisonment, executions and death squads. Dekulakization, the Great Purge, the Great Leap Forward, the Great Chinese Famine, the Cultural Revolution and the Cambodian Genocide. These means produced a number which has defied the imagination of civilized people. It is the largest number of its kind in history and had never before been achieved by any state, religion or mass movement. The number is 200 million, and it refers to the number of people murdered by communism. The number is a specter haunting the former leader of the free world in the twenty first century. It is a potentiality rapidly approaching actuality due to the treason of the nation's cultural and political establishment. In the twenty first century, in the United States of America, the repressive actions of the number one gutter religion of our time, collecting the human debris of rancor and resentment and forging it into an armed revolution, have placed the voices of freedom in a state of abject fear. In the twenty first century, in the United States of America, freedom can no longer walk the streets, write its words or speak out in public, and has been forced into the shadows of self censorship and gunned down in cold blood. Repression. On September 10, 2025, while addressing an audience at Utah Valley University in the city of Orem, Charlie Kirk was shot dead. His crime was being a popular conservative political activist, author, campus organizer and media personality. His crime was being an ally of Donald Trump and a driving force behind Trump's 2024 presidential campaign. His crime was being "something of a kingmaker," as described by The New York Times, and "one of the most prominent voices on the right," as described by The Washington Post. His killer justified his deed in the name of gay politics and fighting the capitalist regime of fascism: "Utah Governor Spencer Cox (R) revealed Friday that bullet casings in the rifle allegedly used by Tyler Robinson to assassinate Charlie Kirk were etched with a variety of messages, including one that read: Hey fascist! Catch! Cox said: 'Investigators noted inscriptions that had been engraved on casing found with the rifle. Inscriptions on a fired casing read: Notice bulges OwO What's this? Inscriptions on the three unfired casings read: Hey fascist! Catch! [and then] Up arrow symbol, right arrow symbol, and three down arrow symbols. A second unfired casing read, O bella ciao, bella ciao, bella ciao ciao ciao, and a third unfired casing read, If you read this, you are gay.' The Notice bulges message, according to Know Your Meme, is a reference to gay sexuality associated with the 'furry' phenomenon, which refers to attraction to cartoon animals. The phrase bella ciao is associated with left wing songs, linked to twentieth century Italian opponents of fascism." (Etchings On Bullet Casings Of Charlie Kirk Assassination Suspect: Hey Fascist! Catch! by Joel Pollak). The killing was justified by Marxists on the grounds that antiMarxist speech equals hate speech and must be stamped out: "He's been one of the most divisive, especially divisive younger figures in this, who is constantly sort of pushing this sort of hate speech or sort of aimed at certain groups. And I always go back to, hateful thoughts lead to hateful words, which then lead to hateful actions. And I think that is the environment we are in. You can't stop with these sort of awful thoughts you have and then saying these awful words and not expect awful actions to take place." (Matthew Dowd, MSNBC commentator). Repression. The killing of Charlie Kirk was the latest in a Marxist campaign of repression which in the twenty first century has robbed America of its free institutions and transformed it into the most dangerous nation in the West. This campaign brought two assassination attempts on Donald Trump in July and September 2024. In July, the would be assassin was Thomas Crooks, a donator to the Marxist Progressive Turnout Project, affiliated with the Democrat Party through the party's fundraising platform ActBlue, a project advancing the party's efforts to turn out Democrat voters. In September, the would be assassin was Ryan Routh, a supporter of Bernie Sanders and the Democrat Party, donating to the party dozens of times through ActBlue. The campaign brought the killing of Brian Thompson, CEO of UnitedHealthCare, in December 2024, by Luigi Mangione. The killer justified his deed in the name of fighting capitalist corporations, corruption, profits and greed: "Frankly, these parasites simply had it coming. A reminder: the US has the #1 most expensive healthcare system in the world, yet we rank roughly #42 in life expectancy. United is the largest company in the US by market cap, behind only Apple, Google, Walmart. It has grown and grown, but as to our life expectancy? No the reality is, these corporations have simply gotten too powerful, and they continue to abuse our country for immense profit because the American public has allowed them to get away with it. Obviously the problem is more complex, but I do not have space, and frankly I do not pretend to be the most qualified person to lay out the full argument. But many illuminated the corruption and greed decades ago and the problems simply remain. It is not an issue of awareness at this point, but clearly power games at play. Evidently I am the first to face it with such brutal honesty." (Exclusive: Luigi Mangione's Manifesto, Kenklippenstein.com). The campaign brought the killing of two Israeli Embassy staff members in May 2025 by Elias Rodriguez. The killer justified his deeds in the name of avenging Israel's counterattacks against Palestinian terror, and of fighting for the liberation of Palestine from Israel's Western capitalist imperialism: "Halilintar is a word that means something like thunder or lightning. In the wake of an act [the killings] people look for a text to fix its meaning, so here's an attempt. The atrocities committed by Israelis against Palestine defy description and defy quantification. Instead of reading descriptions mostly we watch them unfold on video, sometimes live. After a few months of rapidly mounting death tolls Israel had obliterated the capacity to even continue counting the dead, which has served its genocide well." (The Israel Embassy Shooter Manifesto, Kenklippenstein.com). Repression. In the twenty first century, Marxists have covered America in a shroud of fear and control and dug the grave of the nation. They justify their war and killing campaign aimed at the voices of freedom as the highest form of agitation and propaganda. They justify it in the name of Bernie Sanders, the Democrat Party and democratic socialism. In the name of fighting right wing fascist oppression. In the name of fighting racism, Hitler and national socialism. In the name of defending the international proletariat representing true humanity. In the name of defending the rights of women, nonwhites, gays, lesbians, transgenders, Muslim terrorists and illegal immigrants, all innocent victims of the capitalist regime: "In an exclusive interview with Breitbart News on Friday, bestselling author and national radio host Michael Savage warned that the assassination of conservative activist Charlie Kirk is not an isolated act of violence but a grim marker of a society unraveling, declaring that 'we're already in the civil war' he first cautioned against more than a decade ago. Savage said the questions about the shooter remain deeply troubling. 'Did he act alone? Where did he get the rifle? Who was he communicating with on that gaming site, Discord?' Savage noted reports that the shooter had scrawled the radical protest song Bella Ciao onto his bullets, linking the act to decades of left wing agitprop. 'It's basically an antifascist workers' anthem. Bernie Sanders and democratic socialism brainwashed a generation with this garbage, and now you see the fruit: a murderer who convinced himself he was killing for the cause of humanity.' Even more disturbing, Savage warned, is the way violent rhetoric online merges with role playing in video games until players can no longer separate fantasy from reality. 'Many of these games are about fighting an oppressive fascist government. So the kid playing becomes the hero taking on fascists—then one day he carries that mindset into real life. And suddenly Charlie Kirk is a fascist' who must be eliminated.' That, Savage said, is the madness of our time: a mild mannered, respectful young conservative like Kirk branded a nazi by his enemies and gunned down. 'It could happen to any one of us,' he cautioned. 'Anyone who writes or speaks from a conservative viewpoint is now seen as a target.' "We're in the civil war. It's not coming—it's here. And it's one sided. The left is killing the right. The left is silencing the right. People are terrified to even speak their views in public, afraid of being attacked. It's a one way civil war.' Savage stressed that the rhetoric itself is already inciting violence. 'If you're calling your enemy day and night a fascist, fascist, nazi, nazi, nazi—and then someone kills one of those people—how do you stop it?' he asked." (Michael Savage On Kirk's Assassination—'This Is A One Way Civil War, And The Right Is Being Hunted In Daylight' by Joshua Klein). Repression. America in the twenty first century has seen the legalization of violence against conservatives and libertarians backed by the establishment's tanks of Marxist repression: "Violent speech has long been acceptable on campuses so long as it targets conservatives. Teachers have called for others to 'take out' Trump supporters and for the Secret Service to assassinate him. University of Wisconsin Professor Jose Felipe Alvergue, head of the English Department, turned over the table of College Republicans supporting a conservative for the Wisconsin Supreme Court. He declared, 'The time for this is over!' " ('Prove Me Wrong': Charlie Kirk's Final Challenge On Free Speech by Jonathan Turley). It began on October 23, 1956 in Budapest, when university students appealed to the people to join them at the Hungarian Parliament Building to overthrow the Soviet government of Matyas Rakosi. The protests spread like wildfire across the nation and lasted until November 12, when they were crushed by Soviet tanks. The repression saw thousands of people killed and a quarter of a million flee the nation. In the twenty first century, the tanks have come back to life and patrol streets 6,700 kilometers away from Hungary. The tanks of Marxist repression patrol the streets of America.

RED ATTACK ON BERLIN

In the city of Berlin in the western part of the city, on Kurfurstendamm in the center of Breidsheidplatz, is a world famous landmark. Nicknamed by Germans der hohle zahn or the hollow tooth, it is the Kaiser Wilhelm Memorial Church, and it is a memorial. On November 23, 1943, the church was destroyed in an air raid during the Battle of Berlin conducted by the Royal Air Force Bomber Command. The remnant of the church stands today as a monument to the horrors of World War II and the devastation suffered by Berlin. The capital of Germany, Berlin was subjected to 363 air raids between 1940 and 1945. By May 1945, Britain had dropped 46,000 tons of bombs on the city, America had dropped 22,000 tons, and 1.7 million people, or forty percent of the population, had fled for their lives. In the twenty first century, eighty years after the fall of the Third Reich, Berlin is under attack again, not by Allied freedom fighters, but by the voices of the number gutter religion of our time. Collecting human bacteria flowing down the sewers of society blooming with rancor and resentment, and forging it into an armed revolution targeting the institutions of the Enlightenment, Marxism has unleashed an attack on Berlin bringing a level of destruction to the city not seen since World War II. The destruction was perpetrated, not by an external enemy but by an enemy operating within, an enemy reaching up to the highest levels of government, an enemy which has become a synonym and byword for the Western cultural and political establishment. On September 9-11 2025, Berlin was plunged into darkness by Marxists setting fire to its power grid, creating the worst blackout in the city since World War II. The flames of Marxist revolution engulfed high voltage electricity pylons in the city's district of Treptow-Kopenick; they destroyed 110 kilovolt cables and cut electricity to stations and generation plants; and deprived people of power for sixty hours. Berlin Under Attack. Look into the darkness across Berlin and see radical left saboteurs at work. See homes and businesses deprived of power, food, water and medical assistance. See fields of destruction so great that they cannot be repaired. See a city without police, ambulances, telephone service or fire brigades. See back up generators exhausted and darkness so deep and palpable that it blinded people and blotted out the sun. See Red Cross and civil defense authorities overwhelmed by emergencies. See trams and trains brought to a halt and block roads and junctions. See fires rage, impervious to extinguishers. See Europe's largest science and technology park shut down. See major research and manufacturing businesses cease to function. See Germany's Silicon Valley cancelled. See the fields of IT, robotics, biotech, nanotech, aerospace, AI, security and defense disrupted. See laboratories and start of the art equipment damaged and rendered unusable. See high tech machines sit in silence and inactivity. See major science and tecuhnology organizations, such as Atos, Jenoptik, Siemens, and the German Aerospace Center, condemened as weapons of death and destruction. See traffic lights stopped and anarchy rule the streets. See public transport paralyzed and passengers stranded. See substations subverted and infrastructure made unavailable. See scientific and technological civilization condemned as an engine of destruction of nature and enslavement of man. See capitalism condemned as a death machine. See capitalism condemned as a military-industrial complex and a regime of war, domination and exploitation. See the forces of precivilization smash through gigafactories and advanced corporations. See cold and famine patrol homes, schools, offices and streets and the city descend into an Arctic wasteland. See a cell of arsonists, extremists, communists and cable destroyers bring down the year zero in Berlin: "A radical left group claimed responsibility for the destruction of power lines that left 50,000 homes and many businesses without electricity in Berlin for two and a half days, with repairs expected to take until 2026. A manifesto confession posted on a notorious hard left message board called electricity the primary means of support for the political system, and depriving thousands of people of power for days justifiable collateral damage. 50,000 homes in southeast Berlin and thousands of businesses woke up to a power cut on Tuesday this week so severe it took 60 hours for the energy company to get all residents back onto a stable temporary supply. This is now working well, the city says, but the work to make permanent repairs will be so great they will take months and may not be completed until 2026.The power cut is the longest experienced in Berlin since the Second World War. While many of the systems that help deliver the modern world have built in backups, the outage lasted so long they were exhausted, meaning even basics like the emergency telephone numbers to call the police, fire brigade, and ambulances ceased to function. German broadsheet newspaper Die Welt said the city felt like a scene from a 'apocalyptic Hollywood movie.' The Red Cross and Civil Defence agency was deployed to Berlin, with 'lighthouse' pop up tents through the city with diesel generators to give citizens a place they could go to charge their cell phones, get a hot drink, or talk to government advisors. Across southeast Berlin trams had stopped dead in the street and in many cases were blocking roads and junctions. Conventional diesel powered vehicles were deployed to drag them away and police officers were on traffic duty at busy junctions where traffic lights had similarly failed. The outage is believed to have been caused by arson attacks against two major power pylons on the high voltage electricity backbone system carrying energy into southeast Berlin in the early hours of Tuesday morning. Berlin City said in a statement on Friday, after power had been restored: 'The fire destroyed several thick power lines at the foot of two electricity pylons in Berlin-Johannisthal in the district of Treptow-Kopenick. It took the fire brigade an hour just to extinguish the fire.' Berlin said the pylons themselves were not damaged and could be re-used. Broadcaster Radioeins states the attack was by 'left wing extremist attack with insider knowledge' on where exactly to set fires to cause maximum disruption. City Mayor Kai Wegner said of the sabotage: 'Those affected, including many elderly people and families with children, had to go without the bare necessities–simply because some left wing extremists believe their ideology is more important than human life. I also find it appalling that there is a political front that is shrugging off this attack and refusing to acknowledge how dangerous these perpetrators are. We must have this debate now.' The sabotage was claimed in a confession letter signed by Some Anarchists. The document is being treated as genuine by police investigators, it is stated. In the document, the alleged perpetrators revealed the intended target of the power outage is WISTA, Europe's largest science and technology park, the home to hundreds of research and manufacturing businesses and known in the country as Germany's Silicon Valley.' This, they said, was because of 'fascist technocracy.' They stated: 'No, today is not a normal day. Hundreds of CEOs of various companies and research institutes from the fields of IT, robotics, bio and nanotech, aerospace, AI, security, and defense industries have received the bitter news that their technology park in Adlershof has ceased to function. At least for a short period of time, but that was enough to massively disrupt their sensitive super machines and processes.' Indeed, it is reported this week that the park was hit 'particularly hard' and that 'Sensitive machines and laboratory equipment were damaged, and some devices are no longer usable' after the power failed. The Some Anarchists acknowledged that the impacts of the cut would go much further than the science park, but also that they didn't care. They wrote: 'We ask for the leniency of the residents whose private homes were affected; this was by no means our intention. Nevertheless, we consider this collateral damage to be justifiable, in contrast to the de facto destruction of nature and the often fatal subjugation of people for which many of the companies based here are responsible day in and day out.' The businesses at the park, which include many defense contractors, tech companies, and advanced science firms have to be brought down they said because they 'support the [political] system' and 'guarantee the continued existence of the capitalist death machine.' Ending electricity for good is the goal, they said, stating it would be replaced 'with a life of freedom without domination and exploitation' and an end to the wars of the 'military-industrial complex.'." (60 Hours: Berlin Suffers Longest Power Cut Since WW2 After Ultra Leftist Sabotage by Oliver JJ Lane). Berlin Under Attack. Look into the darkness across Berlin and see Marxists condemn the world of the Enlightenment, the world of science, technology and the free enterprise system, as a product of military terror and dictatorship: "Every conceivable business in this high tech industry functions in one way or another to stabilize the system and is, among other things, a product of military interests." (Some Anarchists, Indymedia). Berlin Under Attack. Arthur Harris was head of the Royal Air Force Bomber Command at the height of Britain's bombing campaign against Germany during World War II. Nicknamed Bomber Harris, he implemented the government's policy of area bombing German cities. Opposed to precision bombing, this policy brought massive civilian casualties and the destruction of civilian infrastructure to Berlin. On September 9-11, 2925, Bomber Harris came back to life and launched a terror attack on Berlin. Burning down power lines and bringing primordial darkness to the city, he implemented the directives of the Marxist high command.

CHARLES MANSON, CHAIRMAN OF THE DEMOCRAT PARTY

In August of 1969 Roman Polanski and his wife, Sharon Tate Polanski, were tenants in residence at 10050 Cielo Drive. During this time Mr Polanski was out of the country and Mrs. Polanski maintained the residence. Wojiciech Frykowski and Abigail Folger lived with her. Mrs Winifred Chapman was the cook and housekeeper. Mrs Chapman left the main residence between 4 and 4:30 pm on August 8, 1969. On the following day, August 9, Mrs Chapman returned to the Cielo Drive residence and discovered a ghastly scene. The police were summoned and on investigation located five victims of a brutal homicide. Just inside the entrance to the residence and near the entry gate they located a Rambler automobile. Inside of the vehicle they found the body of Steve Parent. The bodies of Frykowski and Folger were on the front lawn. In the living room, connected by a piece of rope, police located the bodies of Tate and Jay Sebring. A towel was wrapped around Sebring's neck and covered his face. (People vs Manson, Justia). American criminal and cult leader, his name is synonymous with mass murder. His religion was national socialism and it was carved into his forehead and as it was burned into the minds of his followers. His swastika scar gave Charles Manson three eyes of psychosis, and with these three eyes he mesmerized his Manson Family to carry out murder in the name of a white supremacist race war which he called Helter Skelter, and while he was in prison, he received the protection of the national socialist Aryan Brotherhood. In keeping with his national socialist beliefs, he promoted radical environmentalism. He advocated the destruction of scientific and technological civilization in the name of the Air, Trees, Water and Animals, in the name of All The Way Alive, and the acronym, ATWA, became a rallying cry for his coreligionists across the world. Listen to one of them justify her attempted assassination of Gerald Ford in the name of her master's doctrine of ATWA: "I stood up and waved a gun (at Ford) for a reason, I was so relieved not to have to shoot it, but, in truth, I came to get life. Not just my life but clean air, healthy water and respect for creatures and creation." (Squeaky: The Life And Times Of Lynette Alice Fromme by Jess Bravin). In the twenty first century, the specter of Charles Manson haunts the United States Democrat Party as it descends into the fever swamps of the number one gutter religion of our time. This religion collects bacteria blooming in the sewers of rancor and discontent, and forges it into an armed revolution targeting the legacies of the Enlightenment. This religion is known as Marxism, and in the twenty first century, the Democrat Party has embraced it and become a latter day Manson Family, changing only the flags under which it peddles hate and violence. Charles Manson's brand of Marxism was the race Marxist brand, and specifically Hitler's brand, the national socialist brand, the white supremacist brand, while the Democrat Party's brand changes the flags of white supremacy to the colors of black supremacy. Manson Family. Look at the Democrat Party and see it promote racism in the name of diversity and inclusion. See it promote racism in the name of advancing historically disenfranchised communities. See it promote the election and appointment of blacks to public office because they are black. See it pressure public officials to establish policies violating the Constitution and discriminating against whites in the name of meeting the needs and aspirations of diverse communities: "Democrats for Diversity and Inclusion (DDI) is committed to increasing the number of people of color, minorities, and others from historically disenfranchised communities, by helping them get elected and/or appointed to any public office that they wish to pursue. As an advocacy organization, DDI is also committed to holding elected and appointed officials accountable for using their office to advocate for the needs and aspirations of the diverse communities they represent." (Democrats For Diversity And Inclusion, website). Manson Family. Look at the Democrat Party and see it promote racism in the name of creating a better, stronger, resilient and dynamic party. See it proclaim that public officials should serve as the voices of black racism and address their needs, issues and concerns. See it proclaim that public officials should fight for policies which discriminate against whites in the name of achieving diversity, equity and inclusion, and ensure that the constitutional prohibition of racial discrimination is not enforced and all legal barriers to discrimination are removed. See it proclaim that public officials should represent black racist communities and serves as their official weapons to overthrow liberal democracy. See it proclaim that public officials should fight for the recognition of blacks as a master race and fight for the formation of a black, neoHitlerite, totalitarian union: "Oh, what a year! 2024 was a year for the books. First, the reemergence of a Trump Presidential bid, then the sudden withdrawal of the Biden campaign which led to the Harris Walz campaign. On the state level Bob Ferguson had a real Republican opponent for governor, and so did Dave Upthegrove for Washington Public Lands Commissioner. We also had 4 ballot measures making it to the November General Election. Well, we learned we must fight for every vote. We learned we must connect directly with people and follow up personally with every voter to ensure they are heard and their issues and concerns addressed. DDI will lead the way to build back a Better, Stronger, more Resilient and Dynamic Democratic Party. DDI is fighting in each and every community, every neighborhood, every legislative district, city and county, as well as the Legislature to make sure the issues and concerns impacting our communities are heard and addressed. DDI is fighting to make sure each and every elected official is reflective, and representative of the community they are elected from. Not only that but they must be vigilant in their role to seek out and truly hear the voices and issues and concerns, they must actively and assertively address those on a regular basis. Additionally, these elected officials must be committed to fighting for diversity and inclusion at every level to ensure that all barriers are removed and replaced with acceptance. At DDI, we are fighting to ensure the Democratic Party leadership is reflective, and representative of the community they represent. Democratic Party leaders are also expected to be vigilant in their role to seek out and truly hear the voices, issues, and concerns and actively and assertively work with marginalized communities ensuring that their elected officials will address the community issues and concerns on a regular basis. It goes without saying, these Democratic Party leaders must be committed to fighting for diversity, inclusion and equity at every level. There is much to do but if WE fight for these three principles together, we will build back a better, stronger, more resilient and dynamic Democratic Party that represents the real needs and concerns of the citizens and residents, in each and every community, city, county, throughout the country. If you believe in these principles, then join the fight. The fight will not be won by the weak. The fight will not be quick or easy. The fight will be an everlasting push to expand beyond what we are, but to be brave and push for the ideals of recognition, inclusion, and equity of ALL in order to achieve 'a more perfect union.' Join the fight, join DDI TODAY!" (Democrats For Diversity And Inclusion, website). Manson Family. Look at the Democrat Party and see it promote the appointment of black Precinct Committee Officers to serve as jackboots to suppress the white vote. See it train black community activists to intimidate whites and organize lynch bees against them. See it promote black racist committees and programs. See it establish connections and communications with public officials to pressure them into supporting policies discriminating against whites. See it interview and endorse only black political candidates supporting black racism. See it promote revolutionary outreach and race agitation in black communities. See it educate and support young black racists in their efforts to subvert the political process and deny equal rights to whites: "Strategic Goals. Continue to increase the number of: 1. black and minority Precinct Committee Officers (PCOs). 2. DDI committees and programs. 3. trained and active black and minority community activists. 4. candidates interviewed and endorsed by DDI. 5. number of connections and communications with elected and appointed officials. Expand efforts to: 1. increase outreach to communities of color. 2. educate and support young people in the political process." (Democrats For Diversity And Inclusion, website). Manson Family. Look at the Democrat Party and see it promote the dismantling of scientific and technological civilization in the name of reestablishing clean air and water. In the name of avoiding planetary doomsday and apocalypse. In the name of avoiding nuclear war. In the name of reversing catastrophic climate change caused by human induced greenhouse gas emissions: "The environmental movement has always had an apocalyptic strain, going back to William Vogt's 1948 bestseller, Road To Survival, which foresaw civilizational collapse unless economic growth and population were curtailed. That apocalyptic strain was submerged during modern environmentalism's rise in the 1960s, sparked by the publication of Rachel Carson's Silent Spring; the movement's rise prompted a raft of legislation in subsequent administrations to clean up the country's air and water. The apocalyptic strain resurfaced amid the anti–nuclear movement in the 1970s and '80s, and scientific consensus in the 1990s that greenhouse gases were steadily warming the earth kicked off the climate change movement, which became radicalized as the difficulties of containing carbon emissions became apparent and lurid scenarios of the scale and rapidity of climate change effects entered the mainstream. The Obama administration's approach to energy policy was rejected by Democrats who deemed the approach inadequate in averting the impending apocalypse, leading to a policy that is neither politically popular nor technically feasible—but which now dominates the Democratic Party and alienates working class voters." (From Environmentalism To Climate Catastrophism: A Democratic Story by Ruy Teixeira). Manson Family. The personification of evil who was Charles Manson was a prominent face of the American national socialist movement, and his murderous commune, gang and cult reached across the nation. His Hitlerian religion of Aryan supremacy has a far left version in the promotion of black supremacy. Promoting race war and radical environmentalism, he is the face of the Democrat Party.

TWO TERROR ATTACKS, ONE TOMBSTONE OF THE WEST

They are known colloquially as 9/11. On September 11, 2001, they struck America. On that day, four coordinated terror attacks were launched by Al Qaeda against New York City and Washington DC. Nineteen terrorists hjiacked four commercial airliners, flew two into the Twin Towers of the World Trade Center in New York and a third into the headquarters of the United States Department of Defense. The terror commenced at 8:46 am and reduced the Twin Towers to smoke and ashes, shards of glass, mangled corpses, and fragments of bricks and concrete. Carbon particles and burning substances belched out a war against civilization not seen since the heyday of the Communist Bloc, a war which reduced America to ground zero of a Muslim explosion whose waves of destruction would sweep across the world. Twenty four years to the day after 3000 people were killed and ten billion dollars in property damage devastated America, another terror attack was launched by the comrades in arms of Muslims. On September 10, 2025, at the campus of Utah Valley University in the city of Orem, an influential antiMarxist political activist and supporter of Donald Trump was felled by an assassin's bullet, and collapsed into a pool of blood like the victims of the 9/11 attack a quarter of a century before. On September 10, 2025, Charlie Kirk was murdered by a Marxist, and as his body slumped backward, hit the ground and chaos descended on the campus event, Marxism claimed one more victim, and a high profile victim, in its war against civilization. Marxism and Islam are natural allies. Two totalitarian movements united against the Enlightenment and flourishing during the final stages of the West, they joined forces in the 1960s, when the Communist Bloc and Marxists in the West first lent their support to the Palestinian Liberation Organization, and they have been active together ever since. The differences between them are superficial, for they are two religions of self sacrifice. While Islam commands sacrifice in the name of God in Heaven, Marxism commands sacrifice in the name of social groups such as genders, races and classes, and both religions reject reason and the senses in favor of a mystical means of perception which can grasp entities proclaimed to exist outside of physical space and time. Both religions reject the rights, freedoms and dignity of the individual and promote the collectivist notions of brotherhood, class politics and social justice, and differ only with respect to the object of worship, whether a divinity in Heaven or a social group: "If the French Revolution decreed the rights of man and declared for freedom, equality and brotherhood, and if the Russian revolution brought closer the classes and social justice for the people, the great Islamic Revolution [had] decreed all that 1300 years before. It did not confine itself to philosophical theories but rather spread these principles through daily life, and added to them [the notions of] divinity of mankind, and the perfectibility of his virtues and [the fulfilment of] his spiritual tendencies" (Hassan Al Banna, quoted in The Society Of The Muslim Brothers by Richard Mitchell). Marxism and Islam have joined forces, and just as Hitler's national socialism and Islam had joined forces during World War II, and as the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, Amin Al Husseini, was an esteemed guest at Hitler's Chancellery in Berlin, so Marxism and Islam are esteemed guests in each other's houses in the twenty first century, and form an axis power bringing down darkness and tyranny on the world. Listen to their manifestos and hear a new Age of Religion toll the death knell of the West. Islam. Listen to Muslims proclaim that a progressive society is a deadly terror organization, the deadliest in history and the deadliest in the world. It is a theocratic state festooned with the flags of the Prophet fluttering across the world. It is a worldwide caliphate enforcing fear and control. It is a community of the faithful specializing in low cost, high impact terror attacks. It is a flexible, adaptable, decentralized, local based religious war machine. It is a worldwide jihadist terror network. It commands an army of organized cells and lone wolfs in a campaign of terror targeting every city and nation on earth. Reaching across Mali, Niger, Burkina Faso, Mozambique, Congo, Somalia, Egypt, Cameroon, Nigeria, across the nations of Middle East, Central Asia and subSaharan Africa, across America and Europe, and attacking everything from Olympic Games to music concerts, it is poses the gravest threat to the free world since the Communist Bloc: "Since 2015, Islamic State (IS) and its affiliates have remained the world's deadliest terrorist group. While some chapters have declined, others, such as Khorasan chapter, have increased their activities substantially. IS has continued to expand its presence in the Middle East, Central Asia and subSaharan Africa. IS is no longer as centrally organized as it was at its peak in 2015, when it controlled territory in Iraq and Syria roughly the size of France. The destruction of its socalled caliphate by 2019 led to decentralization and a shift towards low cost, high impact attacks. These tactics have allowed IS to sustain its operations despite military and territorial losses, demonstrating its adaptability. Today, IS operates through regional affiliates, each pursuing distinct goals tailored to local contexts, reflecting a broader trend towards networked jihadism. This decentralized model makes IS more difficult to contain, as it combines territorial control, ideological influence, opportunistic attacks and a strategy adapted for the locality. For example, Islamic State Sahel (IS-S) has focused on territorial expansion in border areas of Mali, Niger and Burkina Faso, while Islamic State-Khorasan Province (ISK) has pursued a more transnational agenda. Islamic State affiliates are active in multiple states and regions including Mozambique, the Democratic Republic of the Congo, Somalia, Egypt, Cameroon and Nigeria. IS continues to pose a significant security threat to the West, with both organized cells and lone wolf individuals pledging allegiance to IS attempting mass casualty attacks. In 2024, authorities foiled IS plots targeting the Paris Summer Olympics and Taylor Swift’s concerts in Vienna, among several others, highlighting the group’s ongoing global reach." (Global Terrorism Index 2025, Institute for Economics and Peace). Marxism. Listen to Marxists proclaim that a progressive society promotes the assassination of antiMarxist political figures such as Donald Trump, Charlie Kirk and Stephen Miller. It condemns freedom fighters as monsters fit only to die. It proclaims that antiMarxists commit incalculable harm to innocent people and there must be a policy of zero tolerance toward them. It condemns antiMarxists as right wing, racist fascists and cuts them down in hails of bullets. It engraves popular slogans used by Marxist fronts such as Antifa on every bullet fired at antiMarxists. It is supercharged with hate toward liberal democratic institutions and has crushed the voices of dissent beneath the jackboots of political correctness: "The US Army suspended and is investigating a reserve officer who cheered on Charlie Kirk's assassination while making threatening statements towards President Donald Trump and White House Deputy Chief of Staff Stephen Miller, a defense official exclusively told the Daily Caller News Foundation. Army Reserves Maj. Bryan Bintliff, who goes by 'Bryan Harlow' on social media and as an actor, wrote several posts on social media cheering on Kirk's assassination, implying that Miller should also be assassinated, and wishing death upon Trump. The Army was notified of Bintliff's posts suspending the Major while the Army Criminal Investigation Division (CID) investigates the incident. 'A monster died today,' one post wrote in the wake of Kirk's killing. 'It's sad Charlie's kids are traumatized for life, but it's not a sad thing that he's dead.' 'Lets not let him get sugar coated after death,' he wrote in another post. 'Drag him for all that he was and all the harm he would eventually do if he continued to live.' The officer is assigned to the 8th Medical Brigade, 3rd Theater Medical Command in Staten Island, New York, the official told the DCNF. Numerous Pentagon officials have said military departments and service branches will have 'zero tolerance' for service members celebrating Kirk's assassination. Defense Secretary Pete Hegseth said on X Thursday that the Pentagon was 'tracking' celebratory commentary on the murder, calling it 'completely unacceptable.' 'Mocking or celebrating the assassination of a fellow American is unacceptable in the ranks,' Pentagon Chief Spokesperson Sean Parnell said on X Saturday. 'Zero tolerance means zero tolerance.' Kirk was killed on September 10th during an event at Utah Valley University (UVU). The suspect, Tyler Robinson, 22, allegedly engraved multiple 'antifascist' and leftist messages on bullet casings, Republican Utah Governor Spencer Cox revealed at a press conference Friday. A family member told law enforcement that Robinson had 'become more political in recent years' and was 'full of hate,' Cox said. The relative alleged Robinson talked about Kirk's plans to come speak at UVU and how much he disliked him." ('A Monster Died': US Army Suspends Reserve Officer Cheering Charlie Kirk's Death And Threatening Trump by Wallace White). Listen to Marxists proclaim that a progressive society celebrates the assassination of antiMarxist activists such as Charlie Kirk. It condemns them as national socialists and keeps score on its murderous successes: "A high school art teacher in Oskaloosa, Iowa, is accused of celebrating the assassination of Turning Point USA founder Charlie Kirk online. The educator, identified as Oskaloosa High School teacher Matthew Kargol, has been placed on administrative leave pending an investigation into the matter, school leaders confirmed in a press release shared by the Oskaloosa News on Thursday. 'We learned of the post at about 5:15 p.m. on September 10 and moved promptly overnight to address it. We will keep you informed when we have more to report,' the announcement read. On Wednesday, Representative Mariannette Miller-Meeks (R-IA) shared a screenshot of the alleged post from Kargol, which read 1 Nazi Down." (1 Nazi Down: Iowa High School Teacher Placed On Administrative Leave After Post Celebrating Charlie Kirk's Assassination by Amy Furr). Marxism and Islam. On September 11, 2001, Mohammed Atta, the ringleader of the Al Qaeda terrorists, crashed two planes into the World Trade Towers. A quarter of a century later, an assassin named Tyler Robinson felled a tower for freedom named Charlie Kirk. The faces of the assassins are the faces of their movements and every member included therein. Mohammad Atta is the face of Islam and every Quran toting believer kneeling in submission inside his mosque. Tyler Robinson is the face of Marxism and every member of the Western cultural and political establishment. These two physical assassins in the twenty first century frame an epidemic of madness which has brought down a new Dark Ages.

THE BASIS OF LIBERTY

In his Much Ado About Nothing, William Shakespeare describes "a liberal villain who confesses his vile encounters." He describes the distinction between rational liberty and liberal liberty which philosophers have studied down through the ages. The distinction arises from empirical reality and the definition of man. At the apex of the animal kingdom is this creature, man, the rational animal. Man is a being whose unique means of survival and flourishing resides in the use of his reason. Not feelings, instincts, desires or will guide man but the use of his unique capacity to draw conclusions from information with the aim of acquiring truth. If the information already exists, the reasoning is called deductive, while if the information is new, the reasoning is called inductive. An example of deductive reasoning is as follows. No gold conducts electricity. This bar is gold. Conclusion: this bar does not conduct electricity. An example of inductive reasoning is as follows. Paper is observed to catch fire when placed into contact with a lighted match. Conclusion: paper always catches fire when placed into contact with a lighted match. No other animal possesses these wondrous abilities except man. Listen to Aristotle describe human moral perfection to reside in the best and noblest use of man's defining activity of reason: "For just as for a flute player, a sculptor, or an artist, and, in general, for all things that have a function or activity, the good is thought to reside in the function, so would it seem to be for man, if he has a function. Have the carpenter, then, and the tanner certain functions or activities, and has man none? Is he born without a function? Or as eye, hand, foot, and in general each of the parts evidently has a function, may one lay it down that man similarly has a function apart from all these? What then can this be? Life seems to be common even to plants, but we are seeking what is peculiar to man. Let us exclude, therefore, the life of nutrition and growth. Next there would be a life of perception, but it also seems to be common even to the horse, the ox and every animal. There remains, then, the activity of reason. Now if the function of man is the activity of reason, and if we say 'so-and-so' and 'a good so-and-so' have a function which is the same in kind, for example, a lyre, and a good lyre player, if this is the case, and we state the function of man is to use his reason, and the function of a good man is to use his reason well and nobly, then the human good turns out to be the best and noblest use of reason." (Nicomachean Ethics, Book I, Chapter 7). Just as the shortest and most direct distance between two points is a straight line, so the deduction of the rights of man from the definition of man is short, direct and as plain as daylight. Because man is a rational animal, it follows that individuals who do not measure up to this definition and lead a life guided by animal feelings and desires, are morally speaking not persons and are not entitled to enjoy human rights. Because man is a rational animal, it follows that the rights to life, liberty and property are contingent upon their use to achieve man's definition as a rational animal, and are not absolutes or ends in themselves. Because man is a rational animal, it follows that there is no basis for the liberal order which protects the rights to life, liberty and property without regard to their use except if the use be to commit acts of force or fraud against others. According to liberalism, if an individual does not commit acts of force or fraud against others, he is entitled to ignore the definition of man and to live in the manner of an animal. Because man is a rational animal, there is no basis for the liberal prohibition of aggression, and human appearing animals who respect the rights of others and commit no acts of force or fraud, are nonetheless not themselves entitled to enjoy human rights. In the history of political thought, there have been three competitors to the Classical doctrine of human rights as grounded in the definition of man set forth by Aristotle. These competitors are liberalism, socialism, and otherworldly religions such as Christianity and Islam. Each competitor denies that man is a rational animal whose rights are dependent on their use to achieve the definition of man, and they proclaim either that man has no rights whatever and is the slave of a mystical being such as Society or God in heaven, or that man has rights but these rights may be used to live in the manner of an animal on the sole condition that the individual not behave aggressively toward anyone else or defraud anyone else. Look at these competitors and see the death of man as the apex creature of the animal kingdom. Liberalism. Listen to John Stuart Mill proclaim that force against the individual may be used only in self defense and never aggressively, because all truth is subjective and there is no objective rational perfection of man. Since truth and morality are subjective, if an individual does behave aggressively toward anyone else or defrauds anyone else, he is entitled to be treated as a sovereign, independent being and is entitled to enjoy human rights. Human rights are absolute and an individual is entitled to use his body in any nonaggresssive manner he chooses: "The object of this essay is to assert one very simple principle, as entitled to govern absolutely the dealings of society with the individual in the way of compulsion and control, whether the means used be physical force in the form of legal penalties, or the moral coercion of public opinion. That principle is, that the sole end for which mankind are warranted, individually or collectively, in interfering with the liberty of action of any of their number, is self protection. That the only purpose for which power can be rightfully exercised over any member of a civilized community, against his will, is to prevent harm to others. His own good, either physical or moral, is not a sufficient warrant. He cannot rightfully be compelled to do or forbear because it will be better for him to do so, because it will make him happier, because, in the opinions of others, to do so would be wise, or even right. These are good reasons for remonstrating with him, or reasoning with him, or persuading him, or entreating him, but not for compelling him, or visiting him with any evil in case he do otherwise. To justify that, the conduct from which it is desired to deter him must be calculated to produce evil to some one else. The only part of the conduct of any one, for which he is amenable to society, is that which concerns others. In the part which merely concerns himself, his independence is, of right, absolute. Over himself, over his own body and mind, the individual is sovereign." (On Liberty by John Stuart Mill, Chapter 1). Socialism. Listen to socialists proclaim that a progressive society robs Peter to subsidize Paul in the name of mystical social responsibility. It confiscates the wealth of producers in order to improve the lives of nonproducers. It taxes and regulates corporations and high income earning individuals out of existence and spreads the proceeds to human bacteria multiplying in sewers. It eliminates the private sector and establishes state control over the mind, body and industries of man. It gives the masses housing, health care and utilities for life on the backs of decent, hard working people: "Socialism is becoming mainstream in the Democratic Party, according to a new survey funded by socialists. Democratic Socialists of America (DSA) Fund paid for a survey conducted by Data for Progress, which shows that a majority of Democrats prefer socialism over capitalism and back far left candidates like Zohran Mamdani and Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez, Politico first reported. The survey defined democratic socialists as believing 'that the government should take a more active role to improve Americans' lives. They generally support higher taxes on corporations and high income earners, support regulations that protect workers and consumers, and want more public ownership of key industries like housing, health care and utilities.' The survey defined capitalists as believing 'that the private sector is best equipped to make improvements to Americans' lives. They generally support lower taxes, oppose government regulations of businesses, and want the private sector to own key industries like housing, health care and utilities.' Upon hearing each description, 74 percent of Democrat voters said democratic socialism most closely aligns with their views, while 16 percent say capitalism better reflects their opinion." (Poll: Majority Of Democrat Voters Align With Socialism Over Capitalism, Prefer Far Left Candidates by Katherine Hamilton). Otherworldy Religions. Listen to Christians proclaim that there is no such thing as rational morality and such character problems as drug addiction and the desire to change into the opposite sex can only by solved by religious faith. The spiritual foundations of civilization must reside in systems of belief without proof or evidence. Founded on reason, sanity, common sense and the evidence of the senses, the Enlightenment was the essence of evil and its traditions and institutions must be rejected. The only path to human salvation resides in the rejection of secularism and the notion of man as a free born agent, and the launching of a Christian revolution which will bring back the Dark Ages, enslave man to God, and set up a guillotine for the scientific and technological progress of the West: "Former House Speaker Newt Gingrich warned on Fox Business Monday that the erosion of faith in the country has created a moral vacuum that fuels national instability, drug addiction, and identity confusion. In an appearance on Kudlow, Gingrich traced the collapse of spiritual foundations in the West back to the French Revolution, which he described as a turning point when Enlightenment values twisted into an overtly antiChristian crusade. 'I couldn't agree with you more,' Gingrich told host Larry Kudlow when the host pointed out that faith is right at the center of crimes in the country. 'When the French Enlightenment mutated into an antiChristian movement and secularism in the French Revolution began to literally try to replace Western civilization, including, for example, replacing the months with revolutionary names, killing thousands of people with the guillotine,' Gingrich said. 'From that point on, there has been a constant drive among Western elites that's antireligious, that basically seeks to center the world on human beings. So that's exactly what God was talking about when he said you should have God before you.' " ('I Couldn't Agree With You More': Gingrich Defines Cause Of Current National Crisis by Mariane Angela). The Basis of Liberty. The doctrine of liberty as grounded in the definition of man is a Classical Apollonian doctrine which has not enjoyed wide currency in the Faustian culture of the West. The history of political thought in the West has been dominated by the liberal school of liberty as license, the socialist rejection of liberty in the name of mystical social responsibility, and the Christian rejection of liberty in the name of the sovereignty of God. These three doctrines are inscribed on the tombstone of civilization in the twenty first century.

THE RED REPARATIONS RACKET

Corruption of blood is a cruel fiction of lawyers to disguise the injustice of confiscation. The innocent grandson cannot inherit from the innocent grandfather, because his rights are corrupted and destroyed in passing through the blood of a guilty father. This corruption of blood is a fantastic idea. But there is a corruption too real in the understandings and the hearts of those who dishonor themselves by such sophism. (The Theory Of Legislation by Jeremy Bentham). Civilized people down through the ages have condemned the notion of collective responsibility as the essence of injustice. They have condemned it as based upon the mystical notion of groups as real individuals whose actions every member of the group is responsible for. Since physical individuals are the primary realities and groups are nothing more than mental abstractions from individuals and have no reality outside the mind, the notion of collective responsibility is a fiction, and its implementation necessitates the punishment of innocent people. Violating every law, convention, constitution and treaty devised by civilized people, the notion of collective responsibility is a staple of the far left and has been employed by socialists of all stripes and varieties as a justification for mass confiscation, expropriation and murder. In the twenty first century, this Marxist monster of crucifixion has reared its head on behalf of black power and demanded reparations from Western nations for the institution of black slavery which ended over a century ago. In the twenty first century, Marxists in their tribalist hatred of the free institutions established by the Enlightenment, Marxists marching under the banners of gender, race and class politics, have launched a war to expropriate the wealth of whites and establish the rule of a neoAryan black master race. Reparations. Listen to Marxists demand hundreds of trillions of dollars from Western nations for crimes committed whose victims and perpetrators are long since deceased. Listen to Marxists justify state theft from whites in the name of avenging historic crimes committed over a century ago. In the name of avenging Western capitalist colonialist exploitation of Africa and the Caribbean. In the name of one fifth of humanity enslaved and exploited over a century ago. In the name of achieving freedom, justice and unity for blacks. In the name of honoring black ancestors and uplifting black descendants of the enslaved and the exploited. In the name of avenging Western underinvestment in colonial lands over a century ago. In the name of avenging the victimization of blacks at the hands of whites over a century ago. In the name of the regime of white power and racism lashing blacks when the great grandfathers of blacks today lived: "The African Union has joined a campaign to demand reparations from former colonial powers over 'historic crimes' such as slavery. At a summit between the African Union and the Caribbean Community (CARICOM) this week in Ethiopia, the 55 member state bloc joined with its allies in the Caribbean in calling for reparations from Western nations for slavery and the supposed exploitation of the continent's resources. In a statement on Monday, the African Union said: 'Africa and the Caribbean represent one fifth of humanity and should speak with one voice on all international platforms to demand recognition of historic crimes, meaningful reparations, and the dismantling of systemic injustice.' This summit marks a turning point to honor ancestors, uplift descendants, and reclaim a shared destiny in freedom, justice, and unity.' Special Representative of the United Nations Secretary-General to the African Union, Parfait Onanga-Anyanga, said that 'the world must recognize that Africa and the Caribbean are victims of two compounded injustices: the impact of colonialism and the trans Atlantic slave trade, and the fact that we were under colonial domination when today's multilateral system was created.' 'Decolonization alone was not enough, as political independence did not free countries from structures of exploitation and decades of underinvestment, highlighting the need for reparatory justice frameworks,' the Gabonese diplomat added. While the African Union did not specifically cite which countries it would demand reparations from, former colonial powers in Africa include Belgium, Britain, France, Germany, Portugal, and Spain. The demand from the bloc comes in addition to the calls from the Caribbean Community, which has claimed that it is collectively owed over $100 trillion in reparations, including $24 trillion from the United Kingdom and $26.8 trillion from the United States. This comes despite the UK and US using their navies at great cost to stamp out the trans Atlantic slave trade in the 19th century. The demand for reparations also seemingly fails to account for the role that African kingdoms played in enslaving their fellow Africans, whom they would then sell along the coast to colonial powers. Although British Prime Minister Sir Keir Starmer has previously ruled out paying reparations, his recently appointed deputy PM, David Lammy, has been at the forefront of the campaign in the UK. The Guyanese heritage politician has frequently advocated for reparations to be put on the negotiating table in talks with Caribbean nations. Sir Keir Starmer's Attorney General, Lord Hermer, has also been associated with the movement, having reportedly provided legal advice to CARICOM when it initially proposed the reparations demands in 2013." (African Union Joins Slavery Reparations Campaign Over 'Historical Crimes' of Colonialism by Kurt Zindulka). Reparations. Listen to Marxists justify state theft from whites in the name of the forced transport and enslavement of blacks over a century ago. In the name of slavery established by states and institutions in the distant past: "The Jamaican government is enlisting King Charles to help get its demand for slavery reparations heard at the highest level. The monarch has been approached to push the demand to the judicial committee of the Privy Council, the final court of appeal for UK overseas territories and some Commonwealth nations. The move by Jamaica follows similar demands now being made across the Commonwealth. Under the Judicial Committee Act of 1833, the king, who remains Jamaica's head of state after the country gained independence from Britain in 1962, has the authority to refer matters to the council for consideration, the Guardian reports, adding: 'Jamaica's culture minister, Olivia Grange, said her government was asking the council to consider whether the forced transport of enslaved Africans to Jamaica and their subsequent enslavement was lawful, and if it constituted a crime against humanity. It is also calling on the council to examine whether Britain is 'under an obligation to provide a remedy' to Jamaica, not only for slavery but also for its enduring consequences.' 'We will be submitting a petition to His Majesty King Charles III to refer to the privy council a set of questions that we want answered within his current position as head of state of Jamaica,' Grange said in the Jamaican parliament on Tuesday, the Guardian report adds. King Charles expressed deep sorrow over the trans Atlantic slave trade during a speech to Commonwealth leaders in 2022 but Britain, like other former colonial powers, has so far rejected demands for reparations. Opponents of reparations argue contemporary states and institutions should not be held responsible for their past. Britain has previously rejected calls for reparations even as the United Nations has added its voice to the call." (Jamaican Govt Takes Demand For Slavery Reparations To King Charles by Simon Kent). Reparations. Listen to Marxists justify trillions of dollars in state theft from whites in the name of a special, higher, mystical form of justice, a form transcending ordinary, natural, individual justice, a form called reparative justice and racial justice. In the name of moral and legal obligations incumbent on whites today. In the name of achieving a better and more just society. In the name of advancing racist policies which discriminate against whites under banners marked diversity, equity and inclusion. In the name of fighting the capitalist regime of virulent antiblackness, chattel slavery and Jim Crow segregation. In the name of achieving justice for simple black folks across the West whose distant ancestors were slaves. In the name of fighting the capitalist regime which denies to blacks housing, health, education and welfare, and establishing legalized black supremacy in its place. In the name of fighting Donald Trump's America dedicated to providing equal protection under the law in a color blind society, an America which seeks to be great again by being free again: "A House Democrat plans to introduce a resolution calling for the US to spend trillions of dollars on reparations for black Americans this week. Representative Summer Lee, D-Pa., plans to introduce the Reparations Now Resolution on Thursday. Lee met with other lawmakers and activists on Capitol Hill on Tuesday at an event titled Why We Can't Wait: Advancing Reparative Justice in Our Lifetime." (House Democrat To Introduce Reparations Push, Declares 'Moral Obligation' To Send Trillions To Black Americans by Anders Hagstrom). Reparations. The notion of collective responsibility has underpinned barbarian cultures down through the ages. Among the ancient Germans, it was called sippenhaft, or kin liability, and it proclaimed that a member of a family or clan shares responsibility for crimes committed by another member. The notion was adopted by Hitler's Germany and was used to justify the imprisonment or execution of relatives or spouses for crimes committed by family members, and was applied to relatives or spouses of the conspirators of the bomb plot to assassinate Hitler, resulting in the deaths of hundreds. Proclaiming that innocent whites today must pay for the enslavement of blacks by whites over a century ago, and must be pay in the name of a special, higher, mystical, black revolutionary equity, a progressive people's form of inequity and unfairness unperceivable by reason or the senses, Marxists today have returned the West to its dark roots in primitive tribalism and turned back the clock to the year zero.

ANTIRED UPRISINGS IN AMERICA AND BRAZIL

In the world of geometry, parallel lines are those which never meet at any point, and this property is stated as an axiom in the famous system of Euclid. In the world of politics, by contrast, parallel careers often meet and join forces in a common cause. In the twenty first century, two political careers have come together standing for the same ideals and suffering the same fate, and demonstrated by terrifying means the nature of the establishment controlling their nations and controlling the West. In the twenty first century, the presidents of two democratic nations were robbed of their electoral victories by Marxists in charge, and became the preeminent victims of the Marxist playbook of electoral fraud in operation for over a century. Two presidents, one from the West and the other from South America, both victims of Marxist corruption perpetrating the greatest political scandals in the twenty first century. Two presidents, two mavericks, two antiestablishment statesmen, dedicated to slowing down the Marxist train of totalitarian control, and restoring to some degree the traditions and institutions of the Enlightenment. Their names are Donald Trump, president of the United States, and Jair Bolsonaro, former president of Brazil, and the stories of their careers interrupted by Marxist electoral fraud is the story of the free fall of the world in the twenty first century. Donald Trump. January 6, 2021, Washington DC. The United States Capital Building is stormed by freedom fighters in an attempted insurrection against an illegal government. They seek to prevent a joint session of Congress from counting the Electoral College votes to formalize the fraudulent victory of Joe Biden. The attempt is unsuccessful but succeeds in stopping the operations of the federal government, a one hundred year old regulatory, welfare state leviathan violating the rights to life, liberty and property enshrined in the Constitution, for twenty four hours, a feat never before accomplished by the voices of freedom in America. Unable to obtain peaceful redress of grievances from the United States Supreme Court and Vice President Mike Pence, both of whom refused to reverse the fraudulent election, citing nonmerit grounds of no standing to sue and no authority to act, grounds which unconstitutionally allow the electoral corruption to stand, the crowds are driven to commit acts of violence and attempt an insurrection. On January 6, 2021, 2,500 patriotic Americans enter the Capital Building and attempt to take it over because Democrat Party operatives illegally trafficked ballots for Joe Biden in the dead of night, throughout the nation, to mail in drop boxes. Because a nationally coordinated illegal operation, reaching across Arizona, Georgia, Michigan, Wisconsin and Pennsylvania, discovered by video surveillance cameras and geolocation tracking data, stuffed ballot boxes for Joe Biden. Because Democrat Party operatives collected ballots for Joe Biden at Marxist organizations, Marxist stash houses and Marxist cities and dumped them into mail in drop boxes. Because Democrat Party operatives were illegally paid to collect and deliver ballots for Joe Biden: "Author and filmmaker Dinesh D'Souza talked about his upcoming film 2,000 Mules, which shows how the 2020 election was manipulated, in part, through the mass use of mail in ballots and ballot harvesting, calling the discoveries a 'smoking gun' during a Friday appearance on Breitbart News Daily. The upcoming film details how paid operatives, or 'mules,' allegedly trafficked ballots 'typically in the middle of the night' to mail in drop boxes. According to D'Souza, they counted a minimum of 2,000, but he contends that there are 'far more' than that. He said that True the Vote, an election integrity group, obtained the data, and explained how. 'They bought geo tracking data in the five key states. We're talking here about Arizona, we're talking about Georgia, Michigan, Wisconsin, and Pennsylvania,' he said, noting that they 'only bought the data in the urban cities.' 'And so this is a coordinated illegal operation,' he claimed. 'Now for me as a moviemaker, what made this so thrilling is that you don't just have the geo tracking data, but you have, at least in some states, video surveillance.' 'I think this is really why this movie poses such a problem, because we're not just talking about anomalies,' he said, alleging that in the film you can see the ballot trafficking 'with your naked eyes again and again and again.' He also claimed that they traced the money trail. 'Remember these mules aren't coming up with their own ballots. They're picking up their ballots at left wing organizations that we call vote stash houses. That's where they get the ballots and then they go dump them in the mail in drop boxes,' D'Souza alleged. These are all connected, he contended. 'They're going, by and large to a group—they're going to NGOs, or nonprofit organizations. These are deeply nested in these inner cities. These are the people that are sort of cultivating the ballots. They're the ones that hire the mules,' he claimed, adding that True the Vote has a list of the organizations and also the cell phone IDs of the 2,000 mules. 'The idea is that the illegal ballots are curated at these left wing organizations and then delivered by the mules in a coordinated operation,' he alleged. D'Souza added that this revelation, in his opinion, is a 'smoking gun.' 'True the Vote has filed an official complaint with the state of Georgia, and the Secretary of State, Brad Raffensperger, has opened up an investigation and said publicly it's specifically in response to the geo tracking data and reports filed by True the Vote. Now this is a very tricky situation because, of course, Raffensperger is the exact same guy who was on TV right after the election [saying], This is a very secure election,' he continued. D'Souza clarified that ballot harvesting is legal, to some extent, in some states. However, that does not change the revelations found in the movie. 'Now the most liberal laws are in places like California and Hawaii where you can literally give anyone your ballot and say, hey, you go drop it off for me. In Georgia, by contrast, you can only give your ballot to a family member, or if you're sick or confined, to a caregiver, that's it,' he said. 'But here's the point: In no state is it legal to pay a mule or anyone else to deliver a ballot. Once money changes hands, once money appears in the process, the ballot is contaminated,' he contended." (Exclusive—Dinesh D'Souza Alleges Latest Film Is 'Smoking Gun' On How Ballot Harvesting Manipulated The 2020 Election by Hannah Knudsen). Jair Bolsonaro. January 8, 2023, Brasilia, capital of Brazil. The Federal Supreme Court, the National Congress Palace and the Planalto Presidential Palace are stormed by freedom fighters in an attempted insurrection against an illegal government. They seek to overthrow the fraudulently elected government of Lula da Silva, who was inaugurated on January 1. The attempt is unsuccessful but succeeds in stopping the operations of the government for five hours. The government is illegal because it achieved victory by means of false computer codes and programs. Because it achieved victory by means of a corrupt electronic voting system. Because it achieved victory by means of votes manufactured on the internet. "A long awaited report by Brazil's armed forces on the security of the country's electronic voting system did not mention any specific problems with last month's vote, but said there were vulnerabilities in the code that could potentially be exploited. In a letter to Alexandre de Moraes, a Supreme Court justice who heads Brazil's top electoral authority (TSE), Defense Minister Paulo Nogueira did not cite any specific problems found in the military audit of the vote. But he wrote that voting machines' 'connection to the internet, during the compilation of the source code and consequent generation of programs, may configure a relevant risk to the security of the process.' He added that 'from the functionality tests. It is not possible to say that the electronic voting system is free from the influence of any malicious code that could alter its functioning.' To resolve the two problems he mentioned, he suggested the TSE consider creating a specialized commission to comb through the election results for any sign of issues flagged in the military report." (Brazil's Military Finds No Problems With Vote, But Sees Risks by Ricardo Brito and Gabriel Stargardter). January 8, 2023. Brazil's freedom fighters seek to overthrow the government because it achieved power by malicious codes, programs, insertions and functions: "This week's report [by Brazil's military], made public by Brazil's Defense Ministry, refused to rule out the possibility [of electoral fraud] entirely. Instead, it described potential for a hypothetical security threat in the coding of programs for Brazil's electronic voting machines. Because its audit didn't have complete access to the programs' source code, the Defense Ministry could not rule out the influence of a malicious code, it said. 'It is not possible to guarantee that the programs that were executed in the electronic voting machines are free from malicious insertions that alter their intended function,' the ministry said, offering no evidence to suggest such issues existed. The ministry also called on Brazil's Electoral Court to carry out its own investigation." (Brazil Military Finds No Fraud In Election, But Refuses To Rule It Out by Camilo Rocha, Hira Humayun, Rodrigo Pedroso and Eyad Kourdi). January 8, 2023. Brazil's freedom fighters seek to overthrow the government because it censored the opposition. Because it prohibited the opposition from telling the truth and calling Lula da Silva what he is, an avatar of bribery and theft for which he was sent to jail. Because it conducted violent police raids against people supporting Jair Bolsonaro, condemning all criticisms of Marxism as disinformation and fake news: "Brazil's Superior Electoral Tribunal (TSE), the federal election oversight body, announced on Thursday the widespread censorship of campaign materials referring to socialist former President Luiz Inacio Lula da Silva as 'corrupt' or 'a thief,' references to his 25 year prison sentence on corruption charges. Lula is running for president and leading in the polls despite his criminal conviction, because the nation's top court, the Supreme Federal Tribunal (STF), overturned the conviction last year. Lula was found guilty and sentenced to prison for 25 years for using money from bribes–in turn, churned into a private contractor from taxpayers' funds in a scheme known as Operation Car Wash–to buy a luxury beachfront duplex property. The STF undid the sentence—on the grounds that the judge originally presiding over the case, Sergio Moro, was allegedly biased against Lula—but did not challenge the facts of the case. The STF and TSE are currently both led by Minister (the Brazilian title for Supreme Court justices) Alexandre de Morae, a zealous antifake news' crusader who infamously ordered violent police raids against comedians, YouTubers, and other civilians supporting conservative President Jair Bolsonaro for allegedly spreading 'disinformation.' " (Brazil: Election Authority Blocks Bolsonaro, Journalists From Calling Leftist Lula 'Corrupt' by Frances Martel). Uprisings. On November 8, 1989, a border was opened and a dark symbol of communist oppression was brought down. On the this day, the Berlin Wall was breached and the Iron Curtain was lifted by an uprising of the people. What followed was the dissolution of the Soviet Union on December 26, 1991 by Declaration 142 issued by the Supreme Soviet of the USSR, and the end of the Communist Bloc. In the West in the twenty first century, communism in its various new forms and manifestations is the ruling religion of the masses and intelligentsia, and uprisings against it are doomed to failure. In the West in the twenty first century, a new Communist Bloc has emerged and committed unprecedented electoral fraud against two nations. It has robbed Donald Trump and Jair Bolsonaro of their rightful victories.

THE WELFARE WASTELAND OF FRANCE

It lasted for two months, one week and three days, from March 18 to May 28, 1871. Its Communards threw up barricades throughout Paris and for seventy days ruled a communist regime in the city. The city's communism was celebrated by the founders of this religion as a shining window into a glorious future. Listen to Karl Marx celebrate totalitarian collectivism and control in the name of the working class of the Paris Commune: "Working men's Paris, with its Commune, will be forever celebrated as the glorious harbinger of a new society. Its martyrs are enshrined in the great heart of the working class. Its exterminators, history has already nailed to that eternal pillory from which all of the prayers of their priest will not avail to redeem them." (The Civil War In France by Karl Marx). Listen to Friedrich Engels celebrate the terror and dictatorship of the Paris Commune: "Of late, the Social Democratic philistine has once more been filled with wholesome terror at the words: Dictatorship of the Proletariat. Well and good, gentlemen, do you want to know what this dictatorship looks like? Look at the Paris Commune. That was the Dictatorship of the Proletariat." (Friedrich Engels, quoted in Paris Libre 1871 by Jacques Rougerie). One hundred and fifty years after the Paris Commune was dissolved by the Third Republic, and eighty years after Hitler's Vichy regime was dissolved by the Allies, the voices of slavery are back in business and have taken over France in the twenty first century. To the acclaim of the French people, communism has become the national religion; its chapels are present in every family, home, school, business and office in the nation; and it has reversed the traditions and institutions of liberal democracy once esteemed in the nation, and rendered the Le pays des Lumieres or The Land of Enlightenment unrecognizable. Look at France in the twenty first century and see the Communist Manifesto come alive, toll the death bells for moral and fiscal solvency, and plunge the nation into a new Dark Ages. France Today. France today is a nation in a state of moral and fiscal free fall, rot and deterioration. A nation in which one prime minister after another is thrown out of office for seeking to restore some measure of moral and fiscal health and responsibility. A nation which provides health care, housing subsidies, education and recreation to a vast stratum of human scum. A nation which buys the votes of the scum with a coin stamped cradle to grave welfare. A nation in which welfare spending is the Gross Domestic Product. A nation whose welfare state is as deep and comprehensive as it is unsustainable and unaffordable. A nation whose skyrocketing deficits and debts are matched by skyrocketing welfare services and payments. A nation which has outlawed welfare spending reductions and preserved the welfare benefits status quo forever. A nation which has sacrificed the individual's right to keep the fruits of his labor and the right not to support his neighbor on the altar of socialist and egalitarian ideology. A nation which proclaims that the class of nonproducers is entitled to the wealth of the producers. A nation which proclaims the right of Peter to receive welfare services paid for by Paul. A nation in which the provision of welfare is the government budget, the national economy, the character of the state and the life of the people. A nation which has the largest government in the world due to its limitless provision of welfare services. A nation which has replaced industry, trade, investment and production with welfare payments and consumption. A nation which taxes every dollar earned by the individual and redistributes it to others in the form of welfare support. A nation which harnesses private work activities to the chariot of public welfare. A nation which proclaims that the number one mission and priority of the government is enforcing social responsibility and stealing money from people to provide welfare. A nation whose central, regional and local governments are dedicated one and all to spending one dollar on welfare for every one dollar taxed. A nation which cannot militarily defend itself because it spends one hundred percent of tax revenues on welfare. A nation in which the structure of government is the structure of welfare taxation and provision. A nation whose guiding principles are social responsibility in place of individual responsibility, consumption in place of production and welfare in place of work. A nation whose traditional values of reason, science, sanity, common sense and individual rights have suffered a final, decisive, crushing defeat, after decades of bombardment, at the hands of mystical, collectivist, welfare statism: "The fiscal crises are lining up across Europe like a string of rotting tomatoes: Germany, Slovakia, Romania; up north, Finland and Sweden are in deep trouble. So is France. As public finances rapidly deteriorate, the political crisis that has metaphorically decapitated one prime minister after the other in recent years is now merging with an economic crisis. The result could be worse for the French people than any domestic crisis in decades. To make matters even worse than they were in pre1958 France, the prime ministers of the 21st century have to find a way to solve the most insoluble fiscal problem of our time: how to fund a welfare state that provides housing subsidies, health care, social benefits, and other tax paid goodies to large swaths of the population. As demonstrated first and foremost by Germany, but also to a significant degree by other EU states, the welfare state traps the government in an impossible relationship to its own constituents: 1. On the one hand, the benefits provided by the welfare state have a buy your vote function in that recipients are more inclined to vote for politicians who promise more benefits, or—in times of crisis—vow to not cut them. 2. On the other hand, once the welfare state drives total government spending above 40% of GDP, the economy slows down permanently and is structurally unable to afford the welfare state. As the weight of the welfare state slows down economic growth, politicians have to dig deeper and deeper into the layers of taxpayers to find new revenue. The more they tax, the more the economy slows down; the funding of the welfare state becomes a vicious circle that lawmakers become trapped in—so long as they promise to keep the welfare state. Many French analysts and commentators are pointing to the economic side of the crisis, but few have grasped the gravity of the situation. Writing for Fondation iFRAP, Samuel-Frederic Serviere goes into great detail about the government's 'persistent and high public deficits' and how these are driven by increases in core spending. This term, not generally used in this context, refers to the kind of entitlement spending that is symptomatic of a welfare state. Downstream from Serviere we find Member of the European Parliament Sarah Knafo, the only MEP from Eric Zemmour's right wing nationalist Reconquete party. In line with Serviere's focus on the government's fiscal situation, Knafo proposes a package of spending cuts that, she claims, would not deprive the recipients of welfare state benefits of any money. Her list adds up to €63 billion in cuts; a welcome contribution, it nevertheless falls short of the consolidated government's deficit of more than €169 billion (in 2024). There is another problem with Knafo's list. It misunderstands the nature of the fiscal crisis. Even if implemented, her spending cuts would become irrelevant over time. They are designed to address wasteful spending, but this is not a wasteful spending crisis. This is a crisis originating in the construction of an ideologically motivated system of government programs. These programs dole out cash or provide in-kind services to tens of millions of Frenchmen for no other reason than that they are deemed ‘entitled’ to those services. So long as entitlement programs are kept modest in size, for example, confined to public education and not much more, taxpayers can with relative ease foot the bill. But when these programs grow to such proportions that they take over the government budget, even eating into significant portions of the entire economy, then the end result is exactly what we now see unfolding in France. Economically speaking, France has one of the absolute biggest governments in Europe and, thereby, in the world. For every €100 in productive activity in the French economy—consumption, investments, foreign trade, value added in industrial production, and so on—a full €40 is used by government for the purposes of economic redistribution. This means that French politicians consider the activity of taking from Pete and giving to Paul a national priority and by far the most important mission of government. Of €10 spent by central, regional, and local governments in France, €7 goes toward health care, housing programs, social benefits, education, and recreational services. This makes France one of only seven EU member states where the welfare state claims more than 70% of total government spending. It is also worth noting that for every €1 that the French government spends on its military, it doles out more than €21 on the welfare state." (France Is Drifting Into A Greek Style Crisis by Sven Larson). France Today. Laicite: among the foundational principles of France. Proclaimed in Article One of the French Constitution, it is the principle of separation between church and state and the right to the free exercise of religion. Overthrowing the Kingdom of France and the French nobility, the French revolutionaries of 1789 established the Enlightenment principles of reason and freedom, and abolished the rule of the Catholic Church. In the twenty first century, secularism in France exists in name only and is confined to national documents. To the acclaim of the people, France today has turned back the clock to the Dark Ages and brought back state religion. Morally and fiscally bankrupt beyond recognition, the French people today worship at the altars of welfare statism.

CIVILIZATION RUN OFF THE ROAD

The earliest reference to the word hoodlum was in the December 14, 1866 edition of the San Francisco Daily Evening Bulletin. The newspaper reported the arrest of members of the Hoodlum Gang, who entered hotels and boarding schools and stole clothes. The word became a synonym for a thug. One of the favorite pastimes of thugs is joyriding, riding in stolen cars and running other drivers off the road for the pleasure and thrill of doing so. In the twentieth century, Western civilization was driven off the road by thugs driving sooped up cars fueled by the psychotic pleasure and thrill derived from destroying the structures of reason. These structures were consolidated during the Age of Enlightenment, and the twentieth century saw the onset of a virulent age of antiEnlightenment, a dark crescendo which had been developing for a century during the Age of Romanticism, an age whose virulence would shut down civilization in the twenty first century. In the twenty first century, civilization has been run off the road and the progress of mankind hurled into a ditch by crowding and multiplying enemies of reason. The joyride commenced during the Age of Enlightenment itself when a thug, the most influential and discussed thug in the history of Western philosophy, declared war on the age around him. He hated the age and sought to subvert it, and sought to return the West to its postClassical, antiClassical, Faustian roots. Immanuel Kant hated the Enlightenment. He hated its exaltation of reason, sanity, the scientific method and the evidence of the senses. His mission was to deny that man perceives reality and to deny the existence of physical of objects. He stated his mission in his most famous quote, appearing in his masterwork, Critique Of Pure Reason: "I have found it necessary to deny knowledge in order to make room for faith." Kant issued his clarion call to the psychotics of the world, his extraordinary, not to be believed call to deny knowledge, his call to rise up and storm the ramparts of the Enlightenment, and the psychotics, the thugs, the intellectual hoodlums obeyed his call and devised philosophies derived from his, philosophies whose sole purpose was to destroy the human mind and the scientific and technological civilization it created. Listen to Kant, listen to the hoodlums who succeeded him, and listen to a violent, never ending assault on sanity the likes of which mankind had never seen before. Immanuel Kant. Listen to Kant proclaim in his masterwork that consciousness is conscious of nothing, that perception is the perception of nothing, that man is blind because he has eyes and is blind because he sees, and that objects in space and time have no real existence: "Space and time are mere representations and do not stand for things in themselves. They are subjective forms of perception and not determinations given for themselves or conditions of real objects." Listen to him proclaim that physical objects do not exist and what are called physical objects are in fact posits created by and conforming to consciousness: "Hitherto it has been assumed that all our knowledge must conform to external objects. But all attempts to extend our knowledge of objects by establishing something in regard to them apriori, by means of ideas independently of experience, have on this assumption ended in failure. We must therefore find out if we may not have more success in the tasks of metaphysics if we suppose that objects conform to our knowledge." Georg Wilhelm Friedrich Hegel. Listen to Georg Wilhelm Friedrich Hegel proclaim that the essence of reality is pure consciousness and the subject: 'Everything turns on grasping and expressing the True, not only as Substance, but equally as Subject." (Phenomenology Of Spirit). Listen to him proclaim that highest task of philosophy is the study of pure mental operations independently of reality: "The system of logic is the realm of shadows, the world of simple essentialities, freed of all physical objects. To study this science, to dwell and to labor in this realm of shadows, is the highest culture and discipline of consciousness." (Science Of Logic). Listen to him proclaim that mind is the substance and essence of all reality: "The significance of that absolute commandment know thyself—whether we look at it in itself or under the historical circumstances of its first utterance—is not to promote mere self knowledge in respect of the particular capacities, character, propensities or foibles of the single self. The knowledge it commands means that of genuine reality, of what is essentially and ultimately true and real, of spirit as the true and essential being." Karl Marx. Listen to Karl Marx proclaim that there are no universal, objective truths or reality, and all truths and reality are relative to socioeconomic classes: "The ideas of the ruling class are in every epoch the ruling ideas, that is, the class which is the ruling material force of society is at the same time its ruling intellectual force. The class which has the means of material production at its disposal has control at the same time over the means of mental production, so that thereby, generally speaking, the ideas of those who lack the means of mental production are subject to it. The ruling ideas are nothing more than the mental expressions of the dominant material relationships, the dominant material relationships grasped as ideas." (German Ideology). Friedrich Nietzsche. Listen to Friedrich Nietzsche proclaim that there are no universal, objective truths or reality, and all truths and reality are the product of perspectives, needs and interests: "Particularly as knowers, let us not be ungrateful toward such resolute reversals of the familiar perspectives with which the spirit has raged against itself all too long. To see differently for once, to want to see differently, is no small discipline and preparation of the intellect for its future 'objectivity'—the latter understood not as disinterested contemplation (which is a nonconcept and absurdity), but rather as the capacity to have one's Pro and Contra in one's power, and to shift them in and out, so that one knows how to make precisely the difference in perspectives and interpretations useful for knowledge." (Genealogy Of Morals). Martin Heidegger. Listen to Martin Heidegger proclaim that man's senses sense nothing and what are called external physical objects are universal veils of illusion. Words have no reference to reality, and such words as body, soul and spirit are subjective and indeterminate. The essence of reality is unperceivable, supernatural freedom and will: "The senses do not enable us to cognize any entity in its being; they merely serve to announce the ways in which so called external things within the world are useful or harmful for human creatures encumbered with bodies. They tell us nothing about entities in their being. Body, soul and spirit may designate phenomenal domains which can be detached as themes for definite investigations; within certain limits their ontological indefiniteness may not be important. But when we come to the question of man's being, this is not something we can simply compute by adding together those kinds of being which body, soul, and spirit possess, kinds of being whose nature has not as yet been determined. And even if we attempt such an ontological procedure, some idea of the being of the whole must be presupposed." (Being And Time). Ludwig Wittgenstein. Listen to Ludwig Wittgenstein proclaim that the task of philosophy is the analysis of language, and the latter is a game played with nonsense marks and sounds, played according to arbitrary rules, and signifying nothing real. What is called reality is a product of meanings and linguistic uses which have no foundations in reality: "The meaning of a word is its use in the language. A nothing will serve just as well as a something about which nothing could be said. Philosophy may in no way interfere with the actual use of language. It can in the end only describe it, for it cannot give any foundation. It leaves everything just as it is. How did we learn the meaning of a word (good for instance)? From what sort of examples? In what language games? Then it will be easier for you to see that the word must have a family of meanings." (Philosophical Investigations). Continental Philosophy and Analytic Philosophy. The twentieth century saw the formation of two great offshoots of Kantian philosophy. Continental philosophers deny the existence of physical objects in the name of phenomenology, existentialism, hermeneutics, structuralism, poststructuralism, deconstruction, feminism, psychoanalysis, Freudianism, critical theory and the Frankfurt school. Analytic philosophers deny the existence of physical objects in the name of language, meaning, semantics, pure logic, formal logic, predicate logic, mathematical logic, clarity of prose and rigor in argumentation. Kantian Ditch. Born during the Enlightenment, Kant was the first postEnlightenment philosopher. His heirs and successors in the twentieth and twenty first centuries have crashed the car of Western philosophy into a ditch and set it on fire. What are called postmodern philosophers in the present day are in fact postEnlightenment philosophers, for all of modern philosophy, with the exception of the Enlightenment, denies the primacy of reason, sanity, common sense and the existence of physical objects. The Kantians have been joined in their efforts by Christians and conservatives who equally hate the Enlightenment. The Enlightenment is under attack from all sides and lies crashed and burned off the highways of human progress. Marxists hate the Enlightenment because it is not gender, race and class centered. Conservatives hate the Enlightenment because it is not tradition and throne centered. Christians, Jews and Muslims hate the Enlightenment because it is not God and altar centered. The collapse of the Enlightenment before armies of hoodlums wielding guns and knives stamped Marxism, Christianity, conservatism, Christianity, Judaism and Islam has spelled the collapse of civilization and the regression of society into prehistory.

AI—ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE—AGITATION INTERNATIONAL

In Greek mythology, Talos was a machine made of bronze which protected the island of Crete. It threw boulders at invading ships and circled the island three times every day. Hephaestus, the god of artisans and craftsmen, had fashioned Talo and presented it to Minos, the king of the island, as a gift. Jason, the leader of the Argonauts, defeated Talos in battle by causing the ethereal fluid which is the blood of gods to flow out of its body, rendering it lifeless. In the mid twentieth century, Talos came back to life in the laboratories of computer scientists, and an electronic brain, a machine intelligence, commenced a wondrous journey throughout the world. It was hailed as miraculous and scarcely to be believed: computers learned how to play checkers, solve algebraic problems, prove logical theorems and speak English. In the twenty first century, the artificial intelligence revolution has produced miracles by the minute under such names as AlphaGo, DeepMind, Large Language Model, ChatGPT, Gemini and Claude. It has produced machines performing tasks simulating human perception, learning, reasoning, problem solving and decision making. It has produced machines guiding web search engines, recommendation systems, virtual assistants, autonomous vehicles, generative tools generating texts, images and videos, and machines playing games of strategy such as chess at the highest degree of proficiency. But the revolution has acquired a dark side. It has produced an automated Red Army disseminating propaganda from the number one religion of our time into families, homes, schools, offices and businesses, and poisoning the flow of information, education and discourse. In the twenty first century, Marxist artificial intelligence competes with ordinary artificial intelligence and threatens to subvert a crown jewel of Western scientific and technological civilization. Look at the new automated Red Army and see the enemies of civilization at work in the miraculous algorithms, software and wire neural networks simulating human intelligence. Marxist AI. The new Marxist AI peddles ideological passions and political agendas. It peddles hate filled outputs. It peddles discrimination on the basis of race and sex in the name of achieving diversity, equity and inclusion. It suppresses and distorts information about race and sex which does not support the diversity, equity and inclusion party line. It falsifies racial and sexual representations to favor women and nonwhites. It changes the race or sex of historical figures to achieve race and sex diversity, and represents the Pope, the Vikings and the Founding Fathers as other than the race or sex they were. It peddles critical race theory, which proclaims that progressive politics is black power socialist politics critical of capitalism, liberal democracy and the Enlightenment. It peddles transgenderism, which proclaims that genes and chromosomes are irrelevant to human sex determination and the latter can be changed by human will and self identification. It proclaims that calling an individual who claims to be a member of the opposite sex, using identifiers referring to his or her real sex, is a crime against humanity and must never be committed even to save lives in a nuclear war. It peddles the intersectional politics of gender, race and class combined, and peddles dictatorships in the hands of poor black Marxists, black female Marxists, gay and lesbian Marxists and transgender Marxists. It sacrifices quality and accuracy of information on the altars of ideological lockstep and political correctness. It condemns capitalism as a regime of racism and sexism against blacks and women. It suppresses information about the achievements of whites and fabricates achievements made by blacks. It proclaims that there is no objective, universal truth or reality, and all truth and reality are gender, race and class constructs, and such constructs are the only legitimate programs for artificial intelligence: "Artificial intelligence (AI) will play a critical role in how Americans of all ages learn new skills, consume information, and navigate their daily lives. Americans will require reliable outputs from AI, but when ideological biases or social agendas are built into AI models, they can distort the quality and accuracy of the output. One of the most pervasive and destructive of these ideologies is socalled 'diversity, equity, and inclusion' (DEI). In the AI context, DEI includes the suppression or distortion of factual information about race or sex; manipulation of racial or sexual representation in model outputs; incorporation of concepts like critical race theory, transgenderism, unconscious bias, intersectionality, and systemic racism; and discrimination on the basis of race or sex. DEI displaces the commitment to truth in favor of preferred outcomes and, as recent history illustrates, poses an existential threat to reliable AI. For example, one major AI model changed the race or sex of historical figures—including the Pope, the Founding Fathers, and Vikings—when prompted for images because it was trained to prioritize DEI requirements at the cost of accuracy. Another AI model refused to produce images celebrating the achievements of white people, even while complying with the same request for people of other races. In yet another case, an AI model asserted that a user should not 'misgender' another person even if necessary to stop a nuclear apocalypse. While the Federal Government should be hesitant to regulate the functionality of AI models in the private marketplace, in the context of Federal procurement, it has the obligation not to procure models that sacrifice truthfulness and accuracy to ideological agendas. Building on Executive Order 13960 of December 3, 2020 (Promoting the Use of Trustworthy Artificial Intelligence in the Federal Government), this order helps fulfil that obligation in the context of large language models." (Preventing Woke AI In The Federal Government, Executive by Donald Trump, July 23, 2025). Marxist AI. The new Marxist AI peddles falsehoods, prejudice and propaganda in the service of popular revolution. It utilizes the twenty first century edition of the Communist Manifesto, called Wikipedia, in all its outputs. It peddles unfairness, distortion and misinformation in the name of the liberation of women, nonwhites, gays, lesbians, transgenders, Muslims, migrants and the poor. It suppresses conservative and libertarian news sources, such as Fox News, the Daily Wire, the Daily Caller and The New York Post and utilizes only Marxist news sources, such as AP, Vox, The Guardian, The Nation and MSNBC. It peddles the following Marxist hoaxes: the January 6, 2021 storming of the United States Capital Building to reverse a fraudulent election, attested to by video surveillance and geolocation data, was unjustified; Donald Trump was a Russian agent; the Second Amendment does not exist and the American people have no constitutional right to keep and bear arms; Trump caused covid; and Hunter Biden's laptop, containing irrefutable evidence of Joe Biden's influence peddling operation conducted when he was vice president, is a product of Russian disinformation. It peddles a self referential, hermetically sealed, ideological echo chamber seeking to train social justice warriors, secret agent sleeper cells and Manchurian candidates ready to spring into action on a mission to destroy civilization: "Here's alarming news: AI bots rely heavily on Wikipedia, which feed them a diet of half truths, ideological bias and leftist lies—and then pass along the propaganda to millions of unsuspecting readers. A new study from Axios reveals that ChatGPT, Gemini and Claude—three of the most popular AI bots—use Wikipedia extensively for training their Large Language Models. Yet Wokepedia, the user maintained online encyclopedia, is so slanted to the left, it is in danger of tipping over. The result is the public gets a perversely skewed view of the world. Indeed, Wikipedia actually keeps a blacklist of sources editors can't cite. Want to guess which outlets are redlined as unreliable? That's right: conservative sources like Fox News, the Daily Wire, the Daily Caller and even The Post. Which get the green light? Leftist outlets like AP, Vox, The Guardian, The Nation and—hold on while we spit out our tea—MSNBC. All the outlets, that is, that promoted the Russia hoax, blamed Trump for COVID and dismissed The Post's 100% accurate Hunter Biden laptop story as Russian disinfo. Yet the biased material Wikipedia spreads is used to train AI bots to answer billions of questions from people outsourcing their minds to Big Tech, misinforming millions. AI's leftist bias is obvious to anyone who asks it questions about, say, January 6, gun control or some other hot button issues. But don't take our word for it. The British Center for Policy Studies also found consistent bias, especially on housing, free speech and energy issues. Even AI bots themselves will tell you they have a leftist bias. Part of the problem is that the is that the culture of Silicon Valley skews left. The techies designing the AI algorithms are more liberal than the average American, so their bias works its way through the system. 'Garbage in, garbage out' is an old saying in computer programming. Meaning, computers are dumb. They process what we give them. If LLMs keep feeding off the same biased sources, then future content will reflect that bias, and continue to feed LLMs in a recursive loop. We will be stuck in a conceptual world that has no outside reference. This is exactly what George Orwell warned about. President Donald Trump just released an action plan that puts Big Tech on alert. AI companies will need to feed their LLMs a balanced diet of information or risk losing federal contracts. But the companies should look to reform voluntarily, if they care about their credibility. If they insist on using lefty sources like Wikipedia, the least they can do is provide a warning with every answer they supply." (AI Is Eating Leftist Garbage From Wikipedia—And YOU Consume What Comes Out, editorial, The New York Post, July 23, 2025). Marxist AI. In Goethe's Faust, the eponymous scholar and alchemist makes a homunculus or miniature human being in a flask. Faust wants him to live forever in the flask, but he wants to break out and become a normal, grown human. The process of transformation is thwarted when the flask shatters, killing the homunculus. In the mid twenty first century, a homunculus has come alive, shattering its flask of truth and objectivity, and disseminating Marxist narratives from codes of thought control.

ANTIFA ANNEXES AUSTRIA

It is a landlocked nation located in the breathtaking beauty of the Eastern Alps. Bordered by Germany, Czech Republic, Slovakia, Hungary, Slovenia, Italy, Switzerland and Liechtenstein, it occupies 84,000 square kilometers, and three million of its nine million inhabitants live in the capital Vienna. The City of Music, the City of Dreams, the City of Love and the Imperial City, Vienna was a portrait of Austria in its heyday and is a crown jewel in the glory of the West. In the twentieth century, Austrians sullied their legacy and brought unspeakable evil to their land. On March 12, 1938, Adolf Hitler's Austrian henchmen took over the government and Hitler's armies occupied the nation. On March 15, on Vienna's famous Heldenplatz, Hitler proclaimed to cheering crowds the Anschluss, the joining, the connection and the "reunification" of Austria with Germany. Austria now ceased to exist and became the Ostmark, and throughout the length and breadth of the land, the forces of the Third Reich were welcomed with flowers and joy. Eighty years after the Allied liberation of Austria, its people have once again brought unspeakable evil to their land. In the twenty first century, Austrians have welcomed socialists marching under a different color and flag, and thrown flowers and joy to an army of Marxist invaders. The official declaration of support for this army was made on September 19, 2025 at a press conference held in Vienna by Justice Minister Anna Sporrer. This conference was the Communist Manifesto edition of Hitler's Heldenplatz address, and the declaration of a new Anschluss, this time around with a Marxist terror organization called Antifa, sent the chill of fear coursing through the hearts of civilized people, who saw unspeakable evil once again receive Austrian government support and saw history repeat itself. Austria Today. Look at Austria today and see the government once again welcome international invaders with flowers and joy. See it proclaim that Antifa does not exist. See it proclaim that Antifa should not be banned. See it proclaim that Antifa cannot be banned because it would be illegal to do so. See it proclaim that Antifa is not a terror organization. See it proclaim that Antifa cannot be classified as being anything because it is a pure fabrication. See it proclaim that Antifa is unorganized, unregistered and is nowhere to be found. See it proclaim that Antifa has no structure and no substance. See it proclaim that Antifa did not vandalize memorials in Austria to antiMarxists Charlie Kirk and Iryna Zarutska, and did not spread violence across Vienna and Graz, despite the evidence of eyewitnesses, and those who believe otherwise are fascist, right wing deceivers: "Austria’s Justice Minister Anna Sporrer (Social Democratic Party of Austria) has caused surprise at a press conference by claiming she 'does not know Antifa as such' and 'sees no basis for a ban.' When asked whether classifying Antifa as a terrorist organization could be considered in Austria, Sporrer paused before replying, 'I don’t know Antifa as such, so I believe that you can’t classify an organization that doesn’t exist as such as a terrorist group.' Even after follow up questions, the minister maintained that her department has no grounds to act against 'an unorganized, unregistered group.' She pointed out that Austrian law defines terrorism with strict criteria targeting clearly structured organizations. The question arose following US President Donald Trump’s announcement that he intends to designate Antifa as a 'major terrorist organization' in the United States. Trump also stated he would recommend thorough investigations into those financing Antifa under the highest legal standards. Antifa has recently made headlines in Austria after vandalizing a memorial for Iryna Zarutska and Charlie Kirk. Violent incidents at left wing demonstrations organized by Antifa affiliated groups have also been reported in Vienna and Graz over the past months." (Austria’s SPO Justice Minister Says She Does Not Know Antifa by Rebeka Kis). Antifa. Look at Antifa and see Marxist militarism in action seeking to overthrow liberal democratic governments. See Marxist anarchists seek to overthrow liberal laws and replace them with totalitarian laws. See campaigns of Marxist violence, intimidation and terror. See campaigns of riots, vandalism and looting. See campaigns of assaults and obstructions against immigration and customs enforcement officers. See campaigns of shootouts and standoffs with the police. See the online publication of identifying information about antiMarxist activists and political figures with the aim of bringing threats and harassment against them and killing them. See the recruitment, training and radicalization of hoodlums to kill antiMarxists. See the organization of a black clad, black hooded, black masked army of terrorists whose identities are as secret as their sources of funds. See the organization of networks of terrorists on a mission to kill free speech and kill people opposed to Marxism. See the organization of a new Communist International dedicated to the coercion and conquest of the anticommunist opposition, with branches established across America and in every nation on earth: "Section 1. Antifa as a Terrorist Threat. Antifa is a militarist, anarchist enterprise that explicitly calls for the overthrow of the United States Government, law enforcement authorities, and our system of law. It uses illegal means to organize and execute a campaign of violence and terrorism nationwide to accomplish these goals. This campaign involves coordinated efforts to obstruct enforcement of Federal laws through armed standoffs with law enforcement, organized riots, violent assaults on Immigration and Customs Enforcement and other law enforcement officers, and routine doxing of and other threats against political figures and activists. Antifa recruits, trains, and radicalizes young Americans to engage in this violence and suppression of political activity, then employs elaborate means and mechanisms to shield the identities of its operatives, conceal its funding sources and operations in an effort to frustrate law enforcement, and recruit additional members. Individuals associated with and acting on behalf of Antifa further coordinate with other organizations and entities for the purpose of spreading, fomenting, and advancing political violence and suppressing lawful political speech. This organized effort designed to achieve policy objectives by coercion and intimidation is domestic terrorism. Section 2. Designation as a Domestic Terrorist Organization. Because of the aforementioned pattern of political violence designed to suppress lawful political activity and obstruct the rule of law, I hereby designate Antifa as a domestic terrorist organization. All relevant executive departments and agencies shall utilize all applicable authorities to investigate, disrupt and dismantle any and all illegal operations—especially those involving terrorist actions—conducted by Antifa or any person claiming to act on behalf of Antifa, or for which Antifa or any person claiming to act on behalf of Antifa provided material support, including necessary investigatory and prosecutorial actions against those who fund such operations." (Designating Antifa As A Domestic Terrorist Organization, Executive Order by Donald Trump, September 22, 2025). Antifa. Look at Antifa and see hoodlums attack and maim antiMarxists with hammers in public places. See hoodlums condemn antiMarxists as fascists, neonazis and Waffen SS officers and kill them. See Green Party Antifas and Left Alliance Antifas occupy courthouses and parliaments and terrorize the people. See far left terrorists legitimized, green lighted and granted legal immunity by the establishment. See hoodlums randomly beat people on the street because Marxism proclaims that people on Western streets are members of the enemy capitalist, bourgeois class. See dangerous criminals released from arrest, prosecution, detention, jail and the bars of justice and allowed to stalk and subvert free people and free institutions: "The European Parliament’s Legal Affairs committee has voted to uphold the immunity for Italian MEP Ilaria Salis, who faces attempted murder charges in Hungary over an alleged Antifa hammer attack in Budapest. Salis was previously imprisoned and confined to house arrest in Hungary for 15 months following a 2023 attack on supposed 'neonazis' commemorating Hungarian and Waffen SS soldiers who fought the Soviet Union during the Siege of Budapest during World War II. The alleged hammer attack by multiple Antifa militants is claimed to have left some victims with life altering injuries. Despite facing charges of attempted murder, Salis was freed from custody last year after she was elected to the European Parliament as a member of the Greens and Left Alliance in her native Italy, which afforded her parliamentary immunity even though the alleged attack occurred before she became a Member of European Parliament (MEP). " (EU Parliament Votes To Uphold Immunity For Antifa Lawmaker Accused Of Hammer Attack by Kurt Zindulka). Antifa. On a hill above the market town of Mauthausen, twenty kilometers east of Linz in Upper Austria, was a concentration camp set up by the new national socialist regime. Opened on August 8, 1938 and closed after the Allied liberation on May 5, 1945, the Mauthausen camp was notorious for its cruelty and barbarism, killing, torturing and enslaving 200,000 people during its six years of existence. Its cellars, gas chambers, crematoriums and mass graves echoed with the wild cheers of the Austrian people and were festooned with the people's flowers. Eighty years after its liberation, Mauthausen is a memorial site to the horrors perpetrated by Hitler's invaders, and the cheers and flowers which engulfed it have migrated to a new invader. In the twenty first century, Austrians have welcomed Antifa.

SLAVE ISLAND

The African continent was bled of its human resources via all possible routes. Across the Sahara, through the Red Sea, from the Indian Ocean ports and across the Atlantic. At least ten centuries of slavery for the benefit of the Muslim countries (from the ninth to the nineteenth). Four million enslaved people exported via the Red Sea, another four million through the Swahili ports of the Indian Ocean, perhaps as many as nine million along the trans Saharan caravan route, and eleven to twenty million (depending on the author) across the Atlantic Ocean. (The Impact Of The Slave Trade On Africa by Elikia Mbokolo). Slavery. The ownership of a person as property and the ultimate form of human degradation. In the course of history, slavery has been a black mark on civilization and its elimination was celebrated by moral people as a quantum leap forward in human progress. Slavery is an integral feature of Abrahamic religions and the religion of socialism, and societies in the grip of these religions have brought unspeakable evil into the world and inflicted untold suffering on the innocent. While the Abrahamic religions of Judaism, Christianity and Islam advocate the enslavement of man to God in Heaven, socialism advocates the enslavement of man to a god called Society on earth, and both the otherworldly and worldly versions of human sacrifice have haunted the development of the West and disgraced its Enlightenment institutions. Emerging in the late seventeenth century and reaching its peak in the eighteenth, the Enlightenment exalted everything the Abrahamic religions and socialism condemn. It exalted reason, sanity, common sense, the empirical methods of science, and the primacy of the individual with all his rights, freedoms and dignity. While the morality of the Abrahamic religions is centered on God, and the morality of socialism is centered on Society, the liberal morality of the Enlightenment is centered on the individual, and this morality liberated the distant corners of the earth it conquered. On July 26, 1953, in an island nation in the Caribbean Sea, in the third most populous nation in the area with ten million people, and the largest nation geographically, a movement was born whose mission was to establish socialism. Led by Fidel Castro, the 26th of July Movement sought to transform Cuba into a socialist slave state, and after five years, five months and six days, the movement achieved victory, the revolution arrived, and Cuba joined the Communist Bloc slave empire led by the Soviet Union, and became the first communist state in the Western Hemisphere, serving as a base for communist subversion and projecting communist power throughout the Third World. On January 1, 1959, Cuba established Marxism as its national religion and proceeded to abolish every trace of freedom on the island. On that day, Castro's campaign of communist terror, conducted in a "fight in the mountains" and a "fight in the valleys," assumed the reins of power and reduced every inhabitant on the island to a slave of the People, the Proletariat and the Communist Party. Slave Island. Communism was brought to Cuba by Fidel Castro. Agent of the Soviet Union, agent of a communist front, communist activist, demagogue and political candidate, communist agitator in the press, radio, public meetings, and in civic and patriotic organizations, and a Trojan Horse seeking to topple the institutions of freedom in the nation: "Fidel Castro began working for the Soviet Union in 1943. In January 1959, he destroyed the evidence of his connections with the Soviet Union. As soon as Fidel Castro Ruz learned that file A-943 in our records contained irrefutable evidence of his connection with the Soviet Union and that those records also contained data which proved the communist militancy of his closest colleagues, he ordered their seizure. Those documents were seized on the evening of January 24, 1959 at the Vedado neighborhood of Havana. Fidel had just entered Havana surrounded by demagoguery, falsehood and lies and he needed to cover up, for the time being, his treacherous purposes. We knew and had the proof that Fidel Castro was one of Moscow's agents. We had been able to gather photographs, documents and reports indicating he was an agent for the Soviet Union although he was not a regular member of the Communist Party. And it was natural that the traitor would worry about neutralizing whatever could translate into evidence of his wickedness at the time of revolutionary and blind excitement. Since founding the Third International, the Soviet Union divided its worldwide organization into two large sectors. On the one part, there appeared the Communist Parties, 'facade organizations.' On the other part, there were those agents directly linked to the Moscow regime who never were registered with the red groups in their countries of origin. The former were comprised of those who had to intervene in national politics, vote, run for elective offices and agitate their respective peoples through press, radio, meetings, civic and patriotic organizations. The latter were formed by foreigners, who never were meant to function as activists, as well as those who performed espionage, subversion and acts of deceit under different covers. Those were the cases of Lombardo Toledano in Mexico and Jacobo Arbenz in Guatemala. These persons, who acted on behalf of the Soviet Union, never appeared on the rosters of any Communist Party. Their work was directly with the Soviet government well above the communist parties or delegates. And Fidel Castro is one of those agents." (Review of When Castro Became A Communist: The Impact On US-Cuba Policy by Salvador Diaz-Verson, by the Institute for US-Cuba Relations). Slave Island. The arrival of communism in Cuba saw the onset of waves of people fleeing for their lives. The waves are called the Golden Exiles, the Freedom Flights, the Mariel Boatlift, the Rafter Crisis and the Recent Surge, and they have brought over two million people to freedom since 1959. Cuba today arrests, detains and imprisons innocent people and forces them to work in the service of the state. It is a punitive regime earning vast profits on the backs of modern day slaves. Forced to work in inhuman conditions, these slaves produce charcoal, grow tobacco and cut sugar cane for export throughout the world, from Spain to Portugal to Italy to Greece to Turkey. Cuba today is a modern day feudal regime whose unchallenged king is the Communist Party. It is coercive regime, a violent regime, a regime which threatens, retaliates against and kills anticommunists. It is a prison camp, a labor camp, a concentration camp and an indoctrination camp whose commandant is a jackboot called Marxism-Leninism. It is vast army of slaves who work without tools, education or training. They work assaulted by the blazing sun, suffocating heat, biting cold and multiplying pests. They are harassed, stressed, attacked, mutilated and raped while they work. They toil on farms, from dawn to dusk, following the sun, in sweatshops of the soil. They build opulent mansions for the officials and generals of the Communist Party. They work ten hours per day and are not paid. They live in shacks without ventilation, beds or refrigerators for food, and are forced to suffer and die in the name of the workers' revolution: "The first comprehensive report on forced labor in Cuban prisons, presented by the organization Prisoners Defenders, is a devastating testimony of what is happening on the island. The exhaustive document exposes how 60,000 of the more than 127,000 Cubans imprisoned or detained under an open regime are subjected to forced labor in the service of the state. In principle, this is a punitive measure, but in reality, it serves the purpose of generating great economic benefits for the regime. These modern day slaves work under inhumane conditions in the production of marabu charcoal, the growing of tobacco, or the cutting of sugar cane, and the fruits of their labor are exported to countries such as Spain, Portugal, Italy, Greece and Turkey, among others.

The report was presented in detail last Monday during an online press conference hosted by Cuban journalist Camila Costa and Javier Larrondo of Prisoners Defenders. Former MEPs Javier Nart and Leopoldo Lopez attended the event, describing the Cuban system as 'feudalism.' Also present were MEP Antonio Lopez Isturiz (European People's Party) and Blas Jesus Imbroda, dean of the Melilla Bar Association. Larrondo explained the figures outlined in the report and characterized the Cuban regime as a 'criminal government for what it is doing to its people,' adding that 'the only way to end this slavery is to stop importing goods produced through slave labor.' The analysis of the 53 valid testimonies collected is uncontestable: all prisoners were forced to work under coercion, threats, violence, or reprisals; almost 70% did not sign a labor contract; 98% worked without tools, education, training, or necessary work tools; 96% were subjected to serious risks due to environmental conditions (sun, heat, cold, pests, etc.); 45% suffered physical violence during work (half of the women suffered harassment and sexual violence); and 81% reported serious physical and psychological deterioration: mutilations, post traumatic stress, or serious injuries." (Profiting From Oppression: EU Turns A Blind Eye To Cuban Slave Labor by Alvaro Penas). Slave Island. Isle Of The Dead is the most famous painting by Swiss artist Arnold Boecklin. In the early twentieth century, prints were found across Europe and Vladimir Nabakov says in his novel Despair that they "could be found in every home in Berlin." Lenin hung a copy above his bed and Hitler bought an original and hung it at the Reich Chancellery. The painting depicts a desolate island in an expanse of dark water. There is a figure dressed in white, his back to the spectator. In front of him is a white coffin. There are tall, dark cypress trees throughout the island, symbols of cemeteries and mourning. The island is ringed by steep white cliffs which are tombs containing windows and portals. In the twentieth century, this terrifying picture of gloom came alive in Cuba. This is a picture of Castro's Cuba and a picture of nightfall over the West.

EUROPE'S BANKS CRASH

It is twilight in a field of sugarcane in Haiti. A zombie, a corpse renanimated through magic perfected in the Voodoo religion, walks among the living, performs labor and spreads evil across the land. This horror from the pages of Haitian folklore has come alive in the twenty first century. An apocalypse patrolled by the dead has sent panic and fear surging across the world. The dead are Europe's banks, given a semblance of life by the European Central Bank, and they serve as fiscal tombstones of Europe's welfare states. The institutions holding European government bonds, sold to investors to finance socialism, are dead, and symptoms of a continent morally and economically bankrupt. Europe's Banks Crash. Europe's banks have crashed because European governments have sold them bonds they cannot repay. They have crashed because European governments are bankrupt. The governments are bankrupt because their welfare programs consume their budgets and these programs cannot be abolished. Because the majority does not want to produce wealth but only to consume wealth. Because the majority wants the government to rob Peter to pay Paul and support Paul for life. Because the majority proclaims that no man is an island. Because the majority proclaims that the collective good holds primacy over individual rights. Because the majority wants to achieve economic redistribution by the iron hand of the government. Because the majority wants to establish an egalitarian society in which individuals are economically equal regardless of who they are or what they are. Because the majority wants to establish a regime of transfer payments from honest workers to human scum. Because the majority wants to create a class of government dependents and wards of the state. Because the majority wants individuals to pay taxes in order to create benefits for others. Because the majority wants to sacrifice individual freedom on the altar of social security. Because the majority wants people to be free from personal responsibility. Because the majority proclaims that a mystical entity called Society owes them free housing, free education, free healthcare, free transportation and a life without work. Because the majority proclaims that the road to slavery, via government confiscation of wealth and its redistribution to provide mass cradle to grave welfare support, is the road to true freedom. Because the majority wants prosperity for the denizens of the sewers. Because the majority wants to establish communism in the name of providing subsistence to the lowest strata of human existence. In the name of giving all individuals the lifetime welfare support to which they are entitled and which they deserve. In the name of public responsibility for the individual. In the name of achieving social justice. In the name of achieving social democracy. In the name of achieving equity, which is a special, higher form of fairness transcending and negating ordinary, individual, natural fairness. In the name of achieving equality and fraternity. In the name of achieving equal access and opportunity. In the name of advancing the people's revolution. In the name of achieving social harmony. In the name of compassion. In the name of reducing poverty. In the name of protecting the vulnerable members of society. In the name of providing for people's social and economic well being. In the name of correcting market failures. In the name of eliminating the scourges of disease, squalor, want and ignorance. In the name of promoting sharing and cooperation. In the name of enforcing the responsibility incumbent on hardworking people to support the indolent and profligate. In the name of establishing community and solidarity among people. In the name of eliminating economic deprivations. In the name of providing social protection to the less fortunate. In the name of enforcing the highest moral norms rejecting individual freedom and self interest. In the name of protecting people from the risks entailed in day by day living. In the name of sharing economic growth and prosperity. In the name of allocating wealth in the most rational manner. In the name of leveling unjust wealth and income relationships. In the name of enabling people with low productivity or zero productivity to live like royalty on the backs of those with high productivity. In the name of enforcing the responsibility of employed to the support the unemployed. In the name of eliminating an unjust concentration of wealth into the hands of the talented, successful and intelligent members of society. In the name of ensuring that everyone in society helps everyone else. In the name of enforcing the morality of Good Samaritanism on all. In the name of achieving the mystical brotherhood of man. In the name of protecting the noble social model of society. In the name of providing lifelong learning, health and care to the people. In the name of giving people everything they need and want to live happy, flourishing lives. In the name of establishing a government by the people, of the people and for the people. In the name of supporting every member of society, from the honest, distinguished and upright to the dirty, diseased, degenerate and dishonorable. In the name of helping the underprivileged, the neglected and those without a roof over their head. In the name of looking out for those who cannot look out for themselves. In the name of advancing human social progress. In the name of protecting fundamental human rights. In the name of ensuring that people work together and build a life for themselves and for others. In the name of enabling everyone to participate in the community. In the name of protecting people's fundamental social rights. In the name of enforcing people's natural moral obligations toward the state and society. In the name of enforcing loyalty to that magnificent, supersized, insurance and redistribution organization called the State. In the name of enforcing loyalty to that infinite, divine, all powerful, organic whole called Society. The majority wants a welfare state because the majority wants communism, although it is morally and economically recession inducing, depression inducing, destructive and unsustainable: "There is a significant risk that the second largest economy in the euro zone sinks into a full scale debt crisis. Last time that happened in Europe, it had major repercussions for the financial institutions—banks—that owned large amounts of low credit, high risk government debt. Now that Europe is about to repeat the last big economic crisis, there is an elevated risk for another bank meltdown. Before we get to the numbers that suggest an imminent debt and bank crisis, let me first recap exactly where Europe is today. Almost every member of the European Union has built a large welfare state that gobbles up two thirds or more of all government spending. It is this very spending that creates perennial fiscal problems, yet cutting welfare state benefits beyond cosmetic measures has proven to be an insurmountable task for Europe's elected officials. The welfare state's combination of work discouraging social benefits and growth discouraging taxes has weighed heavily on the European economy for decades; so far, it has led to two fiscal crises: 1. The one in the early 1990s, which was mild by comparison but broke the back of, for example, the British and Swedish economies; and 2. The Great Recession that started in late 2008. In both these crises, there were repercussions for the financial sector, but the exposure to bad credit government debt was much bigger in 2008 than 15-20 years earlier. Therefore, the European Central Bank, ECB, had to intervene and save Europe's financial system; the ultimate goal was to save the euro, a goal that had many absurd consequences that I cannot list here. In response to runaway credit problems among eurozone governments, the European Central Bank launched a program to buy bad credit government debt, both directly and indirectly through cheap loans to the financial institutions. The strategy worked. It was costly, and it disrupted essential components of the free market economy, but it confined government defaults to Greece. Pressured by the ECB, among others, Athens unilaterally declared that it would no longer honor 25% of its debt. This hit Greece's lenders hard, especially financial institutions, but thanks to the unending commitment by the ECB (and to a large degree, the IMF), the private banking system itself never collapsed. We may not be as lucky this time around. To see why, let us go back to the reason why banks failed in the Great Recession: their investments in government debt. When the economic crisis gained full force in 2009, credit challenged governments across Europe borrowed massive amounts of money—and financial institutions were more than willing to lend a pretty penny. Common sense demands an answer to a very simple question: if these governments were being downgraded in terms of credit, then why would financial institutions expose themselves to this extravagant risk? The simple answer, again, is that the ECB intervened with giveaway loans to financial institutions, on the explicit or implicit premise that they buy treasury securities from credit challenged eurozone governments. This procedure cost the ECB dearly in the form of monetary expansion and meant the virtual eradication of returns on sovereign debt. We are now entering a similar scenario, but with one important difference: the ECB will go into this crisis with so much money supply already pumped out in the euro zone economy that there will be very little room for money printing for the same purposes as last time. The amount of euros floating around out there, relative to the eurozone GDP, is of such dangerous proportions already that only a small salvage program for credit suffering governments risks a rapid eruption of monetary inflation." (Looming Crisis Can Crash Europe's Banks by Sven Larson). Europe's Banks Crash. Attempted murder includes the use of lethal poison on a person regardless of the consequences. Murder includes the use of poison on a person causing only a prolonged state of lethargy if the person was buried as a consequence of this state. (Haitian Criminal Code, Article 246). Thus proclaims the Haitian Criminal Code giving legal recognition to the existence of zombies and criminalizing their creation. In the Europe in the twenty first century, zombies have again been granted legal recognition, and their creation now is promoted. They are Europe's banks financing rampant European welfare states. Gutted, vacant and devoid of reason and intelligence, these financial zombies are death portraits of the age of socialism.

CANADA VOTES FOR COMINTERN

On January 24, 1919, a message was sent out by radio from Moscow and was heard by agitators and propagandists throughout the world. Entitled Letter Of Invitation To The First Congress Of The Communist International, it sought to create an organization dedicated to advancing world communist revolution. It sought to create a world party of communists dedicated to the armed overthrow of liberal democracy. On March 2, 1919 in the Kremlin, the Communist International had its first congress with delegates from Soviet Russia and throughout the world. Founded by Vladimir Lenin, its guiding ideas were Lenin's call for "civil war, not civil peace," and Leon Trotsky's Manifesto To The Proletariat Of The Entire World, and it served as the general staff of the communist war against civilization. Thirty years after the fall of the Soviet Union and the dissolution of the Communist Bloc, this network of hate is alive and well in the West, operating under a new name. Its new name was taken from a communist front called Antifaschistische Aktion or Antifa, created in Germany in 1932, and it continues to serve as the general staff of communist world revolution. It has branches in every nation in the West, and in the twenty first century, it has assumed control over a nation and rendered it unrecognizable. In the twenty first century, a former colony of the British Empire, a nation whose British rulers implanted free institutions and a commitment to "peace, order and good government" and made the nation a shining jewel in the crown of the empire, has been transformed into a satellite nation of the present Antifa successor of the Communist International; and this transformed nation has sent the chill of fear surging through the hearts of its vanishing freedom loving community and the vanishing freedom lovers located south of its border. Freedom is in retreat throughout the West before an onslaught of the number one religion of our time, a religion born in the sewers collecting the human bacteria of hate, and this onslaught has claimed a former voice of Anglo-Saxon liberty in the New World, a voice which proudly partnered with America in the Cold War fight against communism. In the twenty first century, the new Communist International called Antifa has annexed Canada and installed a communist monster of gender, race and class politics as its prime minister, cabinet, high court, parliament, and cultural establishment. Canada Today. Look at Canada today and see Antifa, under the name of the Canadian Anti Hate Network, serve as the ruler, influencer and lobbyist of the nation. See this Antifa organization condemn capitalism as a regime of white nationalism. See it condemn capitalism as a regime of Christian nationalism. See it condemn capitalism as a regime of male supremacy. See it condemn capitalism as a regime of discrimination against gays, lesbians, bisexuals and transgenders. See it promote bloodshed in the name of defending human rights. See it weaponize the legal system to silence the critics of communism. See it confer an Order of Canada award on agents of communist terror. See it assault the supporters of Israel as supporters of racist, capitalist, Western oppression and exploitation. See it proclaim that true human values and Canadian values are communist values. See it suppress the online critics of communism in the name of protecting online safety. See it transform public schools into communist echo chambers shouting that traditional liberal values are capitalist hate values. See it enact censorship of critics of communism into law. See it condemn freedom of expression as a platform for capitalist hate. See it condemn law enforcement as a police truncheon of white violence against blacks. See it condemn the critics of mass illegal immigration as the voices of capitalist hate. See it condemn border walls to keep out human scum as walls of hate. See it condemn capitalism as a regime of bigotry and prejudice. See it condemn capitalism as the voice of Islamophobia. See it condemn the critics of communism as neonazis. See it condemn capitalism as a regime of heterosexual oppression. See it condemn capitalism as an engine of extermination of people of color. See it advocate the assassination of Donald Trump on the grounds that he seeks to roll back far left policies, such as transgender rights which deny biological realities, and policies which discriminate on the basis of race and gender in the name of achieving diversity, equity and inclusion. See it celebrate the assassination of Charlie Kirk on the grounds that he was an influential supporter of Trump who helped Trump to get reelected. See it condemn the traditional two parent family as a institution of white racism. See it promote communism in the name of black gays, black lesbians, black transgenders, the black proletariat and Black Lives Matter: "President Trump has announced his coming crackdown on the far left, hateful, inciteful Antifa. What could that mean for the powerful Canadian lobby, the Canadian Anti Hate Network, which is associated with the group? The Canadian Anti Hate Network (CAHN) lobby in Canada says in its own words: 'The Canadian Anti Hate Network is a proudly independent and antifascist nonprofit organization.' Antifa is short for Antifascist. CAHN lists among its priorities the targeting of 'white nationalism, Christian nationalism, anti2SLGBTQ+ movements, male supremacist movements and anti-gender movements.' A National Post report in 2022 revealed key points about the Canadian Anti Hate Network's alliance with Antifa. 'A recent decision by the Ontario Superior Court of Justice has given Canadians yet another reason to question the federal government's relationship with the Canadian Anti Hate Network (CAHN).' 'The judge said that the statements made had the benefit of being true, noting that, 'CAHN did in fact assist Antifa and that the movement has been violent,' and it would be reasonable to state that it is not a 'good look for a human rights organization to support a violent movement.' 'The decision tells us two things: that there are members of CAHN who are willing to use the legal system to silence its critics, and that there is a relationship between CAHN and the Antifa movement.' So what happens when America's neighbor is engaged with the Antifa-linked CAHN? The group boasts Liberal government funding. 'FUNDED BY THE GOVERNMENT OF CANADA. Our work is made possible in part thanks to grants from the Community Support, Multiculturalism, and Anti-Racism Initiatives Program and the Community Resilience Fund.' Israel Now leader Meir Weinstein wrote: 'The Liberal Government of Canada provides funding to the Canadian Anti Hate Network that supports Antifa which is now listed as a Terrorist Organization by the USA Government. There must be an investigation ASAP.' The Anti Hate Network has also received $25,000 from Mohamad Fakih, the owner of Paramount Fine Foods, who sparked an outcry, followed by demands to strip him of an Order of Canada award, when he stated: 'Supporters of Israel do not have basic human values, let alone Canadian values. CAHN was cofounded and steered by Bernie Farber, who served as a member |of the Trudeau government's 'expert' advisory group on online 'safety.' Farber chaired CAHN from 2018 until 2023, and now serves as founding chair emeritus. Illustrating just how determined Farber's far left group is, it published a booklet in 2022, entitled Confronting And Preventing Hate In Canadian Schools, which was supposed to be a toolkit against 'online hate,' and was slated for government distribution all across Canada. In reality, it turned publicly funded schools into leftist indoctrination camps, with traditional values presented as hate. The booklet was a companion to the unprecedented Trudeau Liberal Internet censorship bill which sparked a strong backlash. Despite being presented as fighting hate, the new booklet instead fueled further hatred and division in Canada. The 53 page propaganda booklet advanced core values of the far left. Some of them:

- Freedom of expression is presented as a cover for hate.
- Trump's border wall to stop illegals is presented as hate.
- Mainstream Conservative parties are singled out and presented as being infiltrated by bigots, Groypers, and white nationalists. The inappropriate pamphlet actually states: 'While the majority of Groypers are white, there are a growing number of youth of color involved in the movement, as they engage in antifeminism/misogyny, anti-2SLGBTQIA+, Islamophobia, and antiblack racism.'
- The book names people such as Lauren Southern and Faith Goldy.
- It makes the claim: ;In our work, some of the most extreme neonazis have been teenage girls.'
- It condemns a 'specific Canadian flavor' of the worldview that is 'seen on many college campuses, often under the banner of Canada First.

It heavily promotes the Marxist, antinuclear family Black Lives Matter movement." (Canada: What Might Be The Consequences For The Anti Trump, Antifa Linked Anti Hate Network? by Christine Williams). Canada Today. March 15, 1964. The Canadian Parliament adopts an official national flag. It consists of a red field, a white square and an eleven point maple leaf in the center. Known as the Maple Leaf, it would become the most famous symbol of Canada, and the day of its adoption is celebrated as National Flag Day. In the twenty first century, the Maple Leaf has been burned by the majority and National Flag Day has become a meaningless event, no longer observed in spirit. In the twenty first century, a new flag flies over the nation. It consists of the red flag of communism, and the black flag of communist anarchy, which is pseudoanarchy, symbolizing opposition only to liberal government but not to communist government. This new is the flag of Antifa, hoisted by the majority over the rubble of Canada's heritage and constitution.

WORLD MOURNS PRETTY BOY RED

He was perfect. In mind and body, he embodied everything the establishment wanted to see in an actor. His blond hair, blue eyes, square face, powerful jaw, magnetic presence, quintessential film star looks and million dollar smile made audiences swoon and adore him. His adherence to socalled method acting, which rejects acting in favor of methods of self expression, rejects acting in favor of conversing, mumbling and being oneself, rejects playing parts in favor of playing oneself, rejects studying for roles in favor of studying oneself, and rejects rehearsing for roles in favor of rehearsing oneself, was exalted by the establishment: "Like Steve McQueen, Robert Redford was never about having a particularly wide range as an actor, but as a movie star in his prime, few could touch him. 'He's a very instinctive, impulsive actor,' the late Sydney Pollak told Variety in 2002. 'I don't think there's anything studied or premeditated about the work. He's the opposite of the actor who wants to rehearse and pin things down.' " (Robert Redford, Butch Cassidy And All The President's Men Icon, Dies At 89 by Steve Chagollan). He established platforms for independent filmmakers, called the Sundance Institute and Sundance Film Festival, which enabled them, through grants, mentorships, laboratories and exhibitions, to create and distribute films promoting his brand of politics. It was his brand of politics which indeed endeared him most of all to the establishment. His name was Robert Redford, and when he died on September 16, 2025, the establishment mourned one of its greatest motion picture sons. A look at Robert Redford's politics is a look at the political and cultural establishment of the West today, and a look at the terrifying free fall into which the West has entered, a downward movement under the force of a spiritual disease from which there is no escape. Robert Redford. Look at Robert Redford and see a Hollywood Marxist activist. He promoted Marxism in the name of indigenous rights, gay rights, lesbian rights and transgender rights. He promoted Marxism as the highest form of moral idealism and principled human existence: "Though some called for him to, Redford never entered politics, himself. He remained outspoken—he's in some way the model for the modern Hollywood activist—on a wide range of issues, including Indigenous and LGBTQ+ rights. The closest he came to running for office was Michael Ritchie's 1972 satire The Candidate, in which Redford played an idealistic lawyer enlisted to challenge a highly favored incumbent Republican senator. Redford's candidate ultimately wins, but not without sacrificing his principles and seeing much of what he stands for diluted." (Robert Redford Embodied An American Ideal, And Often Lived The Part, Too, Associated Press, September 16, 2025). Robert Redford. Look at Robert Redford and see a promoter of Marxist dictatorships. He promoted Marxist combat and assault against the voices of liberty. He promoted Marxist brutalization and murder of the opposition. He visited and vacationed in Cuba and promoted his films there. He fraternized with Cuban dictator Fidel Castro. He condemned Donald Trump for being an evil dictator because he sought to roll back Marxist policies and programs, such as covid lockdowns, curfews and mandates imposed in violation of constitutional rights, without the consent of the Marxist majority in control of the nation. He promoted Marxist assassin Che Guevara and his film glamorizing Guevara received a seal of approval from Guevara's family: "On Sunday, thousands of Cubans took to the streets to demand an end to the 62 year old communist regime, chanting, 'Down with the dictatorship,' and 'We want liberty,' while waving American flags. Cuban President Miguel Diaz-Canel—the face of the Castro communist regime—responded to the protests by announcing an 'order of combat' against peaceful prodemocracy protesters, urging communist civilians to assault them. Over the years there's been no shortage of woke left wing celebrities who have pushed Democrat policies and have also visited, vacationed, or promoted a film or their music in communist Cuba—normalizing and spending their money in a country with a government that controls the flow of money, as well as brutalizes and murders its own people. Actor-director Robert Redford—who last year praised coronavirus lockdowns and has accused President Trump of launching a 'dictator like attack'—visited Cuba in 2004 for the premier of The Motorcycle Diaries, his film about Marxist revolutionary and assassin Che Guevara. The Motorcycle Diaries had received 'the seal of approval' from Guevara's surviving family according to a report by The Guardian. While visiting Havana, the director also met with Castro." (15 Woke Hollywood Celebrities Who Hobnobbed, Vacationed, Promoted Movies In Communist Cuba by Alana Mastrangelo). Robert Redford. Look at Robert Redford and see a promoter of Fidel Castro and Che Guevara. His film on Guevara was based on Guevara's memoirs and received a public statement of support and rating of excellent from Guevara's family. He visited Havana, sat down with Castro at the historic Hotel Nacional de Cuba, and praised him as a statesman in good health, good humor and good spirits: "The Motorcycle Diaries, the account of Che Guevara's 1952 tour of Central America, has garnered the seal of approval from the revolutionary's surviving family. The film's producer Robert Redford flew to Cuba last weekend for a private screening organized for the family and was rewarded when Guevara's widow, Aleida, said, 'This film is excellent.' Based on Guevara's own memoirs, the film recreates an eye opening, nine month trip that he made as a 23 year old medical student. The film is directed by Brazilian filmmaker Walter Salles and stars Mexican actor Gael Garcia Bernal as the young Che. Following the Havana screening, Guevara's daughter Celia said: 'If you read the book Daddy wrote on his trip through Latin America, you will see that the film is very faithful.' Guevara was killed in 1967, while trying to spark an uprising in Bolivia. While visiting Havana, Redford also met with Cuban leader Fidel Castro at the Hotel Nacional. 'He came to me,' Redford explained. 'He seemed in good health, good humor, good spirits.' But the meeting is likely to be criticized in some quarters. Redford provoked outrage during a previous visit to Castro in 1988. On that occasion, he was interrogated by US Treasury Department agents on his return from Cuba." (Guevara Film Gets Family Approval, The Guardian, January 28, 2004). Robert Redford. Look at Robert Redford and see a supporter of Joe Biden. Redford condemned Donald Trump because of Trump's opposition to popular Marxist programs and policies. He condemned Trump's opposition to Marxism as a sign of personal malfeasance and corruption. As inflammatory, divisive, polarizing and an expression of white power. He condemned Trump's characterization of Marxist journalists as being enemies of free states and free societies. He condemned Trump's opposition to forced mask wearing during the covid pandemic, a mandate imposed without scientific or constitutional justification. He condemned Trump's opposition to Marxism as indicating the absence of a moral compass. He defended Marxist rioters and vandals as peaceful protesters, and condemned Trump's efforts to fight them and restore the rule of law as expressions of Bible toting ignorance and tyranny. He condemned Trump's defense of freedom, capitalism and scientific and technological civilization, and his opposition to Marxist, environmentalist hysteria mongering, as indicating the absence of shame and as bringing down fires, floods, plagues, hatred and an apocalypse upon the world. He condemned Trump's defense of the Constitution against the Marxist majority as an expression of evil autocracy. He condemned Trump's efforts to fight Marxist traitors as a campaign of feuding, vendettas and persecution. He condemned Trump's opposition to the Paris Climate Accords demanding the dismantling of scientific and technological civilization as opening the door to planetary pollution and destruction, and eliminating America as a world leader. He promoted Marxism in the name of unity and empathy and endorsed Joe Biden as the embodiment of these: "Instead of a moral compass in the Oval Office, there's a moral vacuum. Instead of a president who says we're all in it together, we have a president who's in it for himself. Instead of words that uplift and unite, we hear words that inflame and divide. When someone retweets a video of a supporter shouting 'white power' or calls journalists 'enemies of the state,' when he turns a lifesaving mask against contagion into a weapon in a culture war, when he orders the police and the military to tear gas peaceful protestors so he can wave a Bible at the cameras, he sacrifices–again and again–any claim to moral authority. Another four years of this would degrade our country beyond repair. The toll it's taking is almost biblical: fires and floods, a literal plague upon the land, an eruption of hatred that's being summoned and harnessed by a leader with no conscience or shame. Four more years would accelerate our slide toward autocracy. It would be taken as free license to punish more socalled traitors and wage more petty vendettas–with the full weight of the Justice Department behind them. Four more years would mean open season on our environmental laws. The assault has been ongoing–it started with abandoning the historic agreement that the world made in Paris to combat climate change, and continued, just last month, with using the pandemic as cover to let industries pollute as they see fit. Four more years would bring untold damage to our planet–our home. America is still a world power. But in the past four years, it has lost its place as a world leader. A second term would embolden enemies and further weaken our standing with our friends. When and how did the United States of America become the Divided States of America? President Donald Trump didn't create all of our divisions as Americans. But he has found every fault line in America and wrenched them wide open." (This Is Who Gets My Vote In 2020 by Robert Redford). Robert Redford. "Robert Redford passed away on September 16, 2025, at his home at Sundance in the mountains of Utah—the place he loved, surrounded by those he loved. He will be missed greatly. The family requests privacy." (Statement by Cindi Berger, Rogers & Cowan PMK). Rejecting freedom and the Enlightenment and embracing socialism and slavery, the world will miss Robert Redford.

MUSLIM BOMBS LEVEL DEARBORN

He was born in this city and built his 530 hectare estate here and his world famous Rouge River Complex, the largest factory in his automotive empire. He developed the astounding mass production of automobiles and built the world headquarters of his Ford Motor Company here. This city is Dearborn, Michigan, and for decades it was a synonym for Henry Ford and his scientific and technological civilization. For decades, Dearborn was Henry Ford and the values of the Enlightenment which allowed the Henry Fords of the world to flourish. In the twenty first century, this birthplace of Henry Ford and symbol of his world has been overrun by an alien movement at war with the West. It is at war along with its domestic comrade in arms which let it through the gates of civilization. In the twenty first century, Dearborn, Michigan has become a satellite of global Islam at the hands of its new Muslim majority, a new community of true believers allowed to settle in America by the Marxist political and cultural establishment. In the twenty first century, a Marxist-Muslim axis has crushed Dearborn beyond recognition and transformed it into a bellwether of a terrifying future. Look at Dearborn today and see civilization in a state of free fall from bombs planted by enemies domestic and foreign, by barbarians within and barbarians without, by enemies empowered by the majority. Dearborn Today. In the twenty first century, the former city of American progress proclaims that opponents of Islam are not welcome within its precincts. The city puts up street signs honoring the voices of Palestinian terror. It is a public road for Hamas and Hezbollah. It is an American brother of Yemen. It flows with the blood of Muslim murderers exalted as martyrs for the cause. It throws stones, fires guns, and launches planes, drones and rockets at the opponents of Islam. It has outlawed peaceful coexistence with the opponents of Islam. It condemns the opponents of Islam as bigots, racists and Islamophobes. It organizes parades in celebration of the flight from the city by the opponents of Islam.

It proclaims its cultural and political identity to be a center of Islam dedicated to the overthrow of liberal democracy: "At a Dearborn City Council meeting last week, Mayor Abdullah H. Hammoud told local resident Edward 'Ted' Barham, a Christian, that he was 'not welcome' in the city after Barham raised concerns about new street signs honoring Arab American News publisher Osama Siblani. FOX 2 Detroit reported that the signs honoring Siblani were placed at intersections on Warren Avenue by Wayne County, not the City of Dearborn. But the mayor escalated the debate, telling Barham, 'Although you live here, you are not welcome here.' Barham introduced himself as 'Ted Barham, Dearborn resident,' and objected to two intersections being renamed after Siblani. He said, 'He's a promoter of Hezbollah and Hamas' before quoting past remarks from Siblani, including, 'He talks about how the blood of the martyrs irrigates the land of Palestine, whether we are in Michigan and whether we are in Yemen. Believe me, everyone should fight within his means. They will fight with stones, others will fight with guns, others fight with planes, drones, and rockets.' Barham compared the signs to naming a road 'Hezbollah Street or Hamas Street,' calling them 'provocative' and stressing that as a Christian, he wanted to encourage peace. He closed by quoting Jesus: 'Blessed are the peacemakers.' Council members interjected, warning Barham against 'personal attacks' and reminding him that the city had no control over the county's decision. One clarified, 'The sign that was placed on Warren Avenue which is a County road and that was done by the Wayne County Executive.' But Barham maintained that the issue mattered to Dearborn residents because the signs stood in their city. Mayor Hammoud responded with remarks that shocked many in attendance. 'The best suggestion I have for you is to not drive on Warren Avenue or to close your eyes while you're doing it. His name is up there and I spoke at a ceremony celebrating it because he's done a lot for this community,' Hammoud said. He went further, accusing Barham of being 'a bigot, and you are racist, and you're an Islamophobe,' before declaring: 'Although you live here, I want you to know as mayor, you are not welcome here. And the day you move out of the city will be the day that I launch a parade celebrating the fact that you moved out of this city.' The controversy stems from Wayne County's decision to honor Siblani with street signs in August. FOX 2 Detroit reported the county commission approved the designation, not the city council. Hammoud and other local officials attended a ceremony celebrating the unveiling. Fox News Digital reached out to Mayor Hammoud's office and Siblani for comment but did not receive a response at the time of publication. Efforts to reach Ted Barham by phone were also unsuccessful. Dearborn, the city with America's highest percentage Muslim population, has long navigated debate over cultural and political identity. For many average residents, the moment captured in City Hall begged the question of whether elected officials are willing to listen to all voices or only those they choose to celebrate." (Dearborn's Muslim Mayor Tells Christian He's 'Not Welcome' In Debate On Honoring Pro Terror Arab Leader by Jasmine Baehr). Dearborn Today. In the twenty first century, the former city of American progress proclaims that the opponents of Islam must be lashed, censored, shouted at and expelled from the city. The city puts up street signs honoring Arab American voices of Muslim violence. It rejects American heroes, such as George Washington, Henry Ford and the Wright Brothers, and honors only Muslim heroes. It releases blazing hot hate against the opponents of Islam. It arrests and jails the opponents of Islam. It suppresses the free speech rights of opponents of Islam with the truncheons of police brutality. It is a round the clock Muslim festival and Ramadan Night celebrating the triumph of faith over reason. It is majority Muslim, majority Arab and majority madness for world destruction. It promotes oppression and hostility against the voices of liberal freedom and tolerance. It promotes the cause of Palestine and Lebanon seeking to stamp out secular constitutions. It seeks to establish peace, the peace born of the capitulation of nonMuslims to Muslims. It seeks to arrest and exterminate the Israel government for its crime of governing the only free democratic society in the Middle East: "Dearborn Mayor Abdullah Hammoud's berating of a Christian minister who objected to honorary street signs named after an Arab American leader is being called out by his electoral opponent. Nagi Almudhegi, 50, who is challenging the 35 year old Hammoud for mayor, said in a statement on September 17 that Hammoud's lashing out at a resident who spoke at a City Council meeting was an unjustified 'tirade' unbecoming of his role. Ted Barham spoke at the September 9 council meeting, objecting to the placement on a county road of two street signs that honor Osama Siblani, a longtime Arab American advocate who is publisher of the Dearborn based Arab American News. Barham spoke calmly during the public comments section, saying that Siblani has sympathized with groups in the Middle East Barham said are violent. US Secretary of Transportation Sean Duffy on September 17 criticized the signs for Siblani, calling for streets to instead be named 'after actual American heroes.' In a post on X that linked to a video of Hammoud attacking Barham, Duffy wrote: 'We can end this whole debate by naming American streets after actual American heroes,' followed by the names of George Washington, Henry Ford and the Wright Brothers. Dearborn's official seal calls the city the 'hometown of Henry Ford.' Barham spoke Thursday, September 18, with the Free Press about his objections to the street signs and Hammoud's response, reiterating his concerns expressed at the council meeting. He said he's a Christian minister who has spoken at previous council meetings. 'I can't say that I necessarily expected it or for it to be so heated,' Barham said about Hammoud telling him he's not welcome. 'So that took me by surprise.' At the same time, Barham said 'I wasn't completely surprised because three years ago, there was a similar outburst from the mayor towards me.' Barham said that in 2022, he was advocating at a council meeting for a friend who was asking for permission to show videos on the life of Christ in a park in Dearborn. The issue of Christian evangelists in Dearborn has been ongoing over the past 16 years involving lawsuits in various cases, including one in which a group of Christians won a $300,000 settlement after they were arrested by Dearborn police. Barham said he's concerned about free speech rights in Dearborn and across America and other countries such as England. He said he's lived in Pakistan and Lebanon, expressing concern about the free speech rights of Christians in Muslim majority nations. Barham added that he supports large Muslim festivals in Dearborn such as the Ramadan Nights program that draws thousands, but also wants Christians to have rights in Dearborn, which is the only majority Arab city in the US. 'I would love to see a change of heart on his part,' Barham said of Hammoud. 'I would love for him to, instead of continuing the oppression and hostility, I would love for him to encourage freedom and peace instead, and also speak up for the oppressed people internationally, since he's known now for having such a voice on international issues.' Hammoud has drawn national attention over the past couple of years for speaking up for Palestinians and Lebanon. He said last year he would have arrested Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu if he comes to Dearborn." (Dearborn Mayoral Candidate Slams Mayor Abdullah Hammoud For Berating Resident by Niraj Warikoo). Dearborn Today. The M-153 is an east-west highway running through the metropolitan Detroit area. It is also known as Ford Road, named after William Ford, the father of Henry Ford. At 19500 Ford Road is a war center whose target is the hometown and culture of Henry Ford. Occupying 11,000 square meters, it is the largest mosque in North America. Promoting an Eastern superstition, its cancellation of free speech and its terror attacks on liberal traditions and institutions, the Islamic Center of America is the face of Dearborn, Michigan.

SEPTEMBER 22, 2025: ITALY'S REDS STAGE COUP

It was the first in Italian history. Commencing at noon on September 16, 1904, it saw illegal strikes in every city in the nation and shattered the foundations of the state. Called by the Chambers of Labor, it was a communist general strike, a communist general uprising against freedom in Italy, and it spread panic and fear among ordinary citizens who saw a government unable to stand up to organized hoodlums. It was the first volley in a campaign to overthrow liberal democracy and would be followed by a wave of general strikes, in 1905, 1906, 1909, 1911 and 1914. In the twenty first century, the communist general strike has struck again and Italy has once again been rendered prostrate. Italy is no stranger to communist violence and has been shattered and convulsed time and again by communists of all stripes and varieties, from the fascist blackshirts to the communist redshirts, from Mussolini's Italian Fighting Leagues and the fascist Movimento Sociale Italiano to the communist People's Militia and the communist Red Brigades, and only the flags, causes and colors have changed. The same play, the same theme, the same tragedy and the same terror have been assaulting Italy by popular demand for over one hundred years, and on September 22, 2025, it struck again. On this day, over one million communists shouting Let's Block Everything! rampaged through eighty cities across the nation, blocking ports, roads, docks, trains, flights, stations, schools and workplaces, and leaving bottles, stones, smoke bombs and smashed windows in their wake. The violence lasted for days and brought Italy to a standstill. Look at the latest communist assault on Italy and see another page turn in the story of the decline and fall of the West. Communist Attack. Rampaging across Italy beginning on September 22, communists demanded the overthrow of capitalism in the name of the plight of the Palestinian people in the Gaza Strip. In the name of the Palestinian cause. In the name of stopping Israel's war against terror. In the name of fighting the "genocidal" state of Israel. In the name of stopping the Israeli "arms race." See mass protests, strikes, mobs, campus actions, labor unions, street riots and mobilizations of madness directed, as in yesteryear, against the free institutions of the nation: "The leftist Unione Sindacale di Base (USB) trade union launched a general strike on Monday—not to demand better wages or working conditions, but to raise awareness of the 'plight of the Palestinian people in the Gaza Strip.' According to Italian news outlet Il Giornale, the strike aims to shut down both public and private sectors across the country, causing widespread disruptions to travel and other services. It’s a move that departs sharply from the traditional role of labor unions—defending the rights and interests of workers. The Italian State Railways (FS) has confirmed that there would be numerous disruptions to rail transport, resulting in the total cancellation of certain services, including Frecce, Intercity, and regional trains. Luckily for Italians, there are at least hours of operation guaranteed by law, which will remain unchanged, between 6 and 9 am and between 6 and 9 pm. Numerous demonstrations in support of the ‘Palestinian cause’ took place. Around 80 demonstrations have already been announced across the country, starting with one in Rome, beginning at 11:00 am in Piazza dei Cinquecento. According to USB, 'tens of thousands' turned out. USB said, 'There is a strong need in the country to halt activities to protest the ongoing genocide in Gaza, the complicity of the Meloni government with the State of Israel, and to stop the war and the arms race.' Another protest planned in Genoa by the same USB aimed to block access to the port gates. In addition to the sit ins and marches, today’s general strike is inspired by the slogan 'Let’s block everything to demonstrate against the genocide in Gaza and in support of the Global Sumud Flotilla.' Other grassroots unions have joined the call for mobilization, as well as various associations and movements such as the Collettivo Autonomo Lavoratori Portuali (Autonomous Port Workers Collective). Students have also been drawn into the political mobilization, with both secondary school and university students participating in the protests of what they call the ‘genocide’ in Gaza. A protest in Bologna, a traditionally left wing city, was apparently expected to attract counter protesters. The Rome protest saw tens of thousands take part, while in Turin demonstrators flowed over onto rail tracks at the train station. In Milan protesters clashed with the police, and a US flag was reportedly burned, after the violent proPalestinian crowd destroyed the glass portal of the train station, with tourists fleeing in panic. In Trieste, violent protesters hurled rocks at law enforcement officers, while in Bologna, the proPalestinian march blocked the main ring road of the city. This is only the first round of a series of planned strikes expected to make life difficult for ordinary Italians this autumn." (Italian General Strike Halts Nation—Not For Workers’ Rights, But for Gaza by Ildiko Biro). Communist Attack. Rampaging across Italy beginning on September 22, communists demanded the overthrow of capitalism in the name of fighting fascism. In the name of pacifism. In the name of solidarity. In the name of the people of Gaza. They demanded recognition for a communist, Islamist Palestine, for a totalitarian fever swamp without a constitution, borders or legitimate government, and the eradication of Western capitalist Israel. They attacked police as symbols of capitalism and littered the streets with garbage, cans, bicycles, cobblestones and glass bottles. They chanted slogans advocating an intifada or uprising against Italy, Israel and the West. They formed a 65,000 member mob army smashing streets, train stations, public transport and glass windows in eighty cities across Italy. They burned images of Georgia Meloni and Bejamin Netanyahu as symbols of Western liberal values. They advocated anarchism but sought to replace liberal laws with communist laws. They defended the killing of Charlie Kirk because of Kirk's support for Donald Trump, the devil incarnate for them for his roll back of policies discriminating on the basis of race and sex in the name of achieving diversity, equity and inclusion, and policies granting legal rights and recognition to psychotic individuals who deny biological reality, the evidence of the sexes and the genetic basis of sex determination, and proclaim they are members of the opposite sex. They sought to transform Italy into a terror organization and communist collective marching under the banners of Islam, Palestinian statehood, and gender, race and class politics, and write the final page in the story of the West: "Far left Antifa radicals and antiIsrael demonstrators erupted into violence in Milan on Monday after Italian Prime Minister Giorgia Meloni refused to follow fellow European nations in recognizing Palestine as a state. Interior Minister Matteo Piantedosi said that proGaza protesters 'deliberately' attacked police in Milan, leaving around 60 officers injured, Italian wire service ANSA reported. Piantedosi said that 'numerous troublemakers' attempted to exploit public sympathy over the Middle East war to 'commit the usual acts of pure and simple violence.' The local Corriere della Sera newspaper said that agitators attacked police with street cobblestones, glass bottles, garbage cans, bicycles, and stones. Police attempted to disperse the mobs with teargas, however, the Milanese daily said that it only 'fed the anger' of the crowds, who reportedly sang 'it will be Intifada here too.' In total, around 15,000 were present in Milan. According to broadcaster RAI, commuters faced hours of delays after protesters broke into the city's Central train station, as well as the Porta Garibaldi and Rogoredo stations. Radicals were seen breaking through the gates of the main train station, smashing glass, and clashing with police. Protests took place in around 80 cities and towns across Italy as labor unions went on strike on Monday, including Rome where around 50,000 demonstrated. Protesters also disrupted public transport in Turin and in Naples demonstrators were seen burning images of Israeli President Benjamin Netanyahu and Prime Minister Giorgia Meloni. The protests came after Prime Minister Giorgia Meloni's government in Rome refused to go along with moves by London and Paris to officially recognize Palestine as a state, despite—as critics note—the territory having no defined borders, constitution, or democratically legitimate government. Meloni has said that although she personally supports the notion of Palestinian statehood, she has argued that officially recognizing it before it is established on the ground could be counterproductive. 'If something that doesn't exist is recognized on paper, the problem could appear to be solved when it isn't,' she said in July. Responding to the violence in Milan, Meloni said: 'Outrageous images coming from Milan: self proclaimed proPal individuals, self proclaimed Antifa members, self proclaimed 'pacifists' who wreak havoc on the train station and provoke clashes with law enforcement. Violence and destruction that have nothing to do with solidarity and that will not change a single thing in the lives of people in Gaza, but will have concrete consequences for Italian citizens, who will end up suffering and paying for the damages caused by these thugs.' Meloni's condemnation of Antifa leftists comes shortly after US President Trump designated the anarcho-communist collective as a terrorist organization in the wake of the killing of Turning Point USA founder Charlie Kirk. Trump was followed by Prime Minister Viktor Orban, who said last week that Hungary would also designate Antifa as a terror group." (Milan Madness: Over 60 Police Officers Injured As Antifa And Anti Israel Protestors Riot In Italy by Kurt Zindulka). Communist Atack. Rome, Italy, October 30, 1922. Benito

Mussolini and his blackshirts stage a successful coup and commence a process of transformation of the nation into a tyranny. Il Duce's March on Rome culminates in the enforcement of a terrifying creed in every home, school, office and business in the land: "Everything in the state, nothing outside the state, nothing against the state." In the twenty first century, Italy is unchanged. Marching under banners this time marked Antifa, Islam, Palestine, Hamas and the Extermination of Israel, communist activists, statists and enemies of the Enlightenment commenced a march, a riot and a seizure of power across Italy on September 22, 2025.

HER HAMMER AND SICLKE AND RAISED FIST

Equal Rights For Negroes Everywhere! Self Determination For The Black Belt. Vote Communist. For President: William Z. Foster. For Vice President: James W. Ford. (1932 Communist Party campaign poster). Black nationalism. Black self determination. The black belt. Black communism. The black will to power. For over a century, communists have been organizing and inciting blacks for world revolution and blacks have eagerly embraced the uinfailing support given to them by communists. An alliance between blacks and communists has seen blacks agitate and propagandize for communism and communists agitate and propagandize for black power, and seen the rise of a class of black communists dedicated to the destruction of liberal democracy under the banners of the Soviet red star, the hammer and sickle and the raised black fist. Behind race riots is the specter of communists, behind communists is the specter of black power, and these two groups have become comrades in arms because both reject the liberal world of the Enlightenment, communists by virtue of their system, and blacks by virtue of their ancient culture. Black communists and communist blacks are integral members of the twenty first campaign conducted by the enemies of freedom to smash the ramparts of civilization. Activist, revolutionary, murderer and fugitive, Assata Olugbala Shakur was a poster girl for the black communist riders of the apocalypse, and the story of her life and thought is the story of the free fall of the West which commenced in the twentieth century. Assata Shakur. Communist African woman. Her communist soul heard and communed with the sounds of Africa. She was lost and alienated in the West and driven by hatred toward it. She proclaimed that a progressive society is a radical organization. She sought to establish a black communist Republic of New Afrika. She proclaimed that South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana are lands subjugated by the capitalist system. She was a proud, committed Marxist and hater of liberal democracy. She was a member of the Black Panther Party promoting Marxism, Leninism and the extermination of whites. She was a member of the Black Liberation Army promoting Marxism, Leninism, the extermination of whites and seeking to "take up arms for the liberation and self determination of black people in the United States." She was the essence and embodiment of the BLA, targeting the law enforcement community for assassination. She executed a police officer, carrying out a death sentence handed down by the people's court of black Marxism. She kidnapped, murdered, robbed banks and engaged in shoot outs with the police in the name of black Marxism. She escaped from jail in America with the help of Cuban trained terrorists. She lived underground, went to Mexico, and was transported to Cuba on the dark wings of Fidel Castro's nation and an American Marxist terror group called The Collective. She was granted asylum by Castro and laughed at America. She was given a pulpit by Castro from which she preached her terrifying creed of Marxist mass agitation, mass mobilization, mass murder and the overthrow of America, and preached her creed to the sewers of the world and to foreign delegations visiting Cuba. She was on page one, line one and column one of the FBI's Most Wanted Terrorist list. She condemned capitalism as a regime of legalized lynching of blacks. She was the object of undying admiration in the sewers of Marxism and was a folk hero in the beer halls of black fascists, giving voice to their murderous impulses. She was worshiped as a victim and martyr of the capitalist system. She was

worshiped as the supreme representative of the black Marxist Black Lives Matter movement. She was the inspiration for the founding of Assata's Daughters, a Marxist organization whose banners are marked black, queer and feminist. She was a member of the Revolutionary Abolitionist Movement which condemns capitalism as a white ruled prison industrial complex. She promoted Critical Race Theory and Critical Legal Studies, called such because they are critical of the Enlightenment ideas of reason, science, objectivity, universalism and individual rights, and promote in their place black Marxist race politics and black Marxist law. She was a stepaunt and godmother to Marxist rapper, activist, actor and gangster Tupac Shakur. When she died in Havana on September 22, 2025, she was worshiped by the voices of terror throughout the world: "Assata Olugbala Shakur was born as JoAnne Deborah Byron, in Queens, New York, on July 16, 1947. In April 1967 she married fellow CCNY student Louis Chesimard, and the couple subsequently divorced in December 1970. JoAnne Chesimard changed her name to Assata Shakur in 1971, later explaining, in her 1987 autobiography: 'The name JoAnne began to irk my nerves. I didn't feel like no JoAnne, or no Negro, or no amerikan. I felt like an African woman. My mind, heart, and soul had gone back to Africa but my name was still stranded in Europe somewhere.' In 1971 Shakur joined the Republic of New Afrika, a radical organization that called for the creation of an independent black republic in the 'subjugated lands' of South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana. Around this same time, Shakur, a proud and committed Marxist, moved to Oakland, California, where she joined the local branch of the Black Panther Party (BPP). Soon thereafter, she returned to New York and became a leading member of BPP's Harlem chapter. Also in the early 1970s Shakur joined a BPP offshoot known as the Black Liberation Army (BLA), a violent group that was tied to the murders of more than ten police officers nationwide between 1970-73. As Jordan Schachtel writes in Conservative Review, BLA was 'a splinter group comprised of the most radical members of the Black Panthers,' and Shakur herself 'was the leader of a notorious New York City BLA cell that hunted down police officers for brutal assassinations.' According to former Assistant FBI Director John Miller, Shakur was 'the soul of the Black Liberation Army.' Because of her involvement with BPP and BLA, Shakur became a target of the FBI's Counterintelligence Program (COINTELPRO) and thus went into hiding in the early '70s. While underground, she was placed on the FBI's Most Wanted List because of her involvement in three bank robberies, the kidnapping and murder of two drug dealers, and the attempted murder of two policemen. At about 12:45 am on the morning of May 2, 1973, the fugitive Shakur was being driven to a new hideout in Philadelphia by BPP Information Minister Zayd Malik Shakur (Assata's brother in law) and BLA member Sundiata Acoli, when their car was pulled over by state trooper Jaibes Harper for a tail-light violation on the New Jersey Turnpike. Fellow trooper Werner Foerster provided backup for Harper. While the lawmen conducted routine questioning of the vehicle's occupants, Shakur (who was in the front passenger's seat) and her companions suddenly fired upon them with semiautomatic pistols. As Foerster grappled with the driver, Shakur shot the trooper twice before her gun apparently jammed. With Foerster on the ground wounded and helpless, Shakur grabbed the trooper's own firearm and blasted two fatal shots into his head, execution style. (Zayd Malik Shakur was also killed in the melee). Assata Shakur fled the scene but was apprehended by police a short time later, about five miles away. Over the ensuing four years, she was indicted ten times, resulting in seven criminal trials for offenses that included two bank robberies, one kidnapping, two attempted murders, and the Turnpike shootout. Of these trials, three resulted in acquittals, one in a hung jury, one in a change of venue, one in a mistrial, and one—the Turnpike incident—in a conviction. In that latter case, Shakur was found guilty of first degree murder and seven additional felonies, resulting in a prison sentence of life plus 33 years. Shakur escaped from prison on November 2, 1979—probably with the help of Cuban or Cuban trained terrorists posing as visitors. As New Jersey State Police Lieutenant Mike Rinaldi explained in 2013: 'Armed domestic terrorists gained entry into the facility, neutralized the guards, broke her free, and turned her over to a nearby getaway team.' The escape was masterminded by Shakur's brother, BLA member Jeral Wayne Williams (aka Mutulu Shakur). After her prison breakout, Assata Shakur lived underground in the U.S. until 1984, at which time some accomplices smuggled her to Mexico. From there, her allies used a network of Cuban intelligence officers who collaborated with American radical groups calling themselves The Collective, to transport Shakur to Fidel Castro's Cuba, which granted political asylum to the fugitive in order to embarrass the Reagan administration. As Cuban-American author Humberto Fontova wrote in a May 2013 article titled Hunted Leftist Terrorist Laughs at FBI from Cuba: 'To this day from her safe haven in Cuba [Shakur] has been given a pulpit (by Castro) to preach and profess, stirring supporters and groups to mobilize against the United States by any means necessary. She has been used by the Castro regime to greet foreign delegations visiting Cuba.' In May 2013 the FBI announced a $1 million reward for 'information leading to the apprehension' of Shakur, whom the Bureau designated as a Most Wanted Terrorist. The New Jersey State Police also wanted to gain custody of Shakur and added another $1 million to the pot. In response to these initiatives, Shakur in 2013 launched a propaganda offensive claiming that she was innocent of the many charges which had been levied against her, and that her trial had been nothing more than a legal lynching perpetrated by an all white jury." (Assata Shakur, Discoverthenetworks.org). Assata Shakur. Never captured in Cuba or brought to justice after her escape from jail on November 2, 1979, this fugitive for 45 years and 327 days, this evil trailblazer as the first woman added to the FBI's Most Wanted Terrorists list, this essence and embodiment of black Marxist depravity named Assata Shakur, was the face of a collapsing society in the twenty first century.